I never took any money, Magruder angrily says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jeb Stuart Magruder, contritely admitting it was a "terrible, terrible blunder," testified Friday he helped cover up Watergate to protect himself, John N. Mitchell and the reelection of Richard M. Nixon.

He angrily denied suggestions by defense lawyer Jacob A. Stein that he had pilfered cash from the Committee to Re-Elect the President for his personal use.

"I never took any money from the committee and you know that, Mr. Stein," Magruder said, his eyes flashing. "That is just part of the efforts of the defendants to make me a scapegoat."

Undergoing the most grueling cross-examination of the five-week old trial, Magruder said he was "deeply ashamed" of his role in planning Watergate and helping to cover it up.

"I am dreadfully, painfully sorry for that part of it and the damage it has done to me and my family," he said. "But I thought at that time that the re-election of President Nixon and the protection of Mr. Mitchell and my own self-protection was the most important thing...

"It was a terrible, terrible blunder. It was a tragic mistake that I am trying to rectify and I am in prison now because of it."

He said he had told a phony story about Watergate —that the Nixon campaign had extended $250,000 for legitimate intelligence activities but had nothing to do with the bugging of Democratic party headquarters —from the time of the June 17, 1972, bugging arrests until April 14 of the following year, when he went to prosecutors with the truth.

Assembly candidate to appeal ruling

Judge orders McVittie trial on 'bonus' charge

By JON MORRIS
P-B Staff Writer

Assembly candidate William McVittie Friday was ordered to stand trial on charges of extending illegal bonus payments to deputy registrars.

San Bernardino Superior Court Judge Beach Vasey overruled the West Valley Municipal Court dismissal of the charges Oct. 11, and ordered a trial to commence in Ontario.

McVittie, Democratic candidate in the 65th Assembly District, said he would appeal Vasey's ruling to the state District Court of Appeals in San Bernardino.

"This new ruling means that two judges are in disagreement," McVittie declared.

Vasey's ruling came on an appeal of the dismissal of charges filed by Mary Fuller, deputy district attorney. Vasey overruled Municipal Judge David C. Merrian, who had stated specific criminal intent had to be shown on the part of the defendants, McVittie and Ruben Lara, his voter drive coordinator.

Vasey, after taking the case under submission Oct. 25, ruled that the misdemeanor charge of illegal payments to registrars (penal code section 70) is not a specific intent crime.

"The opinion of the attorney general is to the effect that corrupt motive is a necessary element," Vasey said. "This is far short of holding a specific intent is involved."

The judge contrasted section 70 with penal code section 67, "giving or offering bribes to executive officers." He said the latter is "clearly a crime involving criminal intent."

Section 70 is "solicitation or acceptance of gratuities by public officers or employes."

Mrs. Fuller, in answer to a question by McVittie's attorneys, Tom Hudson and Howard Weiner during a three-hour hearing Oct. 25, said her office did not "choose" to file a misdemeanor bribery charge in the case.

McVittie has 10 days in which to file an appeal of Judge Vasey's ruling before the order becomes final. He has a right to a hearing on the decision, Mrs. Fuller stated.

Rockefeller denies report that he withheld information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice presidential nominee Nelson A. Rockefeller Friday denied a published report that he had refused to publicly divulge "adverse" information compiled by congressional investigators who examined his income tax filings.

Hugh Morrow, Rockefeller's press secretary, released a statement saying a Southland newspaper story on the subject was "inaccurate and the quotations attributed to a member of the House Judiciary Committee are misleading and very unfair."

The story cited a committee source as saying that the report on Rockefeller's taxes compiled by the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation contained "adverse" information, but that Rockefeller refuses to allow it to be made public.

Morrow said Rockefeller had no objection to making the information public if the congressional committees handling his nomination would permit it.

He said Rockefeller had obtained a copy of the joint taxation committee's report from the Senate Rules Committee "on the specific conditions, concurred in by the general counsel to the House committee, that he not release or comment upon any of the information in the report," Morrow said.

Both the Senate Rules Committee and the House Judiciary Committee must vote on Rockefeller's confirmation.

The story did not say what the "adverse" information was. It said the source refused to give any details because of a law which prohibits disclosing the contents of a tax file without the taxpayer's permission.

Races up the West Coast

Ford makes final bid to aid GOP campaign

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI) — President Ford, making a final bid to boost pre-election odds for Republican candidates, raced up the West Coast Friday for a flurry of campaign rallies, speeches and fund-raising events.

Ford flew to Fresno from Los Angeles after interrupting his stumping to visit former President Richard M. Nixon in a nearby Long Beach hospital —their first meeting since their historic change of command in August.

The President's first campaign stop, at the Fresno Air Terminal, was designed mainly to aid Rep. Bob Mathias, seeking his fifth term in the House and reported trailing Democratic challenger John Krebs. Portland, Ore., was his next stop.

A crowd of several thousand was waiting at the Fresno airport to welcome Ford on his arrival shortly before noon, but many also carried signs of protest. "Recall Ford," read one; others said "Pardon me" and a number of signs protested economic policies. One proclaimed, "People before profits," and others demanded "Roll back food prices" and "Tax the rich."

Before flying to Fresno, Ford met for eight minutes with Nixon at his hospital bedside. After the brief visit, which Nixon's doctors said would be a great morale boost, Ford said he and the ex-president had discussed international affairs and he had told Nixon, "All our family was praying for his complete and total recovery."

In Portland, the President was hoping to spur an upset in the governor's race, where Democrat Robert Straub, a former state treasurer, was said to hold a lead over GOP state Sen. Victor Atiyeh, who has publicly endorsed Ford's pardon of Nixon.

In the Oregon Senate race, moderate Republican incumbent Robert W. Packwood was expected to defeat Betty Roberts, a state senator. She was chosen to oppose Packwood when former Sen. Wayne Morse, the winner of the party primary, died in July.

Halloween candy containing cyanide kills Texas boy, 8

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Harris County Medical Examiner said Friday an 8-year-old boy died of cyanide poisoning from eating his first piece of Halloween candy.

Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk said the cyanide granules were contained in "giant pixie sticks," powdered candy in a straw, which Timothy Mark O'Bryan and two friends were given.

"If they (the friends) had eaten the candy, they would have died," the medical examiner said. "Cyanide will kill you within an hour. It's a very deadly drug."

Timothy, of suburban Deer Park, died at Southmore Hospital in Pasadena about an hour and a half after eating the candy.

Jachimczyk said there were two inches of cyanide granules at one end of each of the sticks which are 22 inches long and one-half inch diameter.

Police Lt. E.L. Goad said the candy was given out in the Bowling Green section of Pasadena. Officers have narrowed the search for the person who gave the candy to the children to two streets.

Average taxpayer in state hit for $1,739 each year

CHICAGO (UPI) — Statisticians Friday issued a set of figures that show how deep the taxman's hand is in American pockets.

The yearly estimate for the average California taxpayer was $1,739, second only to New York's $1,894 nationwide.

The national average was $1,577.

"That's a rough figure," said a spokesman for Commerce Clearing House, the publishing firm that issued the report. "It would presume the federal share at about $1,000 per person and the share for state and local governments at $577.

The firm's statisticians were definite about the state and local bite. The $577 per capita figure, for fiscal year 1973, was up from $522 the year before.

The federal estimate is based on gross federal revenue. During the same accounting period it was $237 billion, according to Treasury Department figures, which breaks out at a little more than $1,000 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

Haig assumes his duties as Europe commander

STUTTGART, Germany (UPI) — Gen. Alexander M. Haig, former President Richard M. Nixon's White House Chief of Staff, assumed command Friday of U.S. Army, Air Force and Navy units in Europe. He described them as a "crucial factor" in most international crises.

In his first statement as commander in chief of the U.S. European Command's 300,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen, Haig said the six years he has just spent in Washington made him aware "of the role that the American presence in Europe has played in a number of crises our nation has faced, and that in almost each case, it has been a crucial factor in the succesful outcome of these crises."

After the low-key ceremony at Patch Barracks, Haig told reporters he is unconcerned at reports he may lack the confidence of some of the NATO governments whose armed forces he also will command beginning Dec. 15, when he becomes the Alliance's Supreme Allied Commander in Europe.

The general assumed the United States European command in a quarter-hour ceremony beneath twin poles flying the American and West German flags.

Terrorist group says it planted several bombs

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The so-called "New World Liberation Front," a terrorist group, took responsibility Friday for the alleged bombing of the home of a former ITT president, according to the Los Angeles Free Press.

The Free Press, an underground paper, issued the text of the purported message from the NWLF stating the home of Robert D. Hallock, in Los Altos, Calif., was bombed Thursday. Her husband resigned from ITT some time ago, she said.

Hallock was not immediately available but his wife told a reporter the front of their home was damaged Thursday and some lights were broken although she did not say there was an explosion.

The NWLF has previously taken responsibility for bombs planted at Sheraton hotels here and in San Francisco. The hotel chain is owned by International Telephone and Telegraph.

The bombings were staged as reprisal for ITT support of the rightist government in Chile, the NWLF has stated.

Tom Thompson, Free Press city editor, said the NWLF communication arrived in the noon mail Friday and demanded that ITT admit complicity in Chile's "murderous coups," take steps to release all political prisoners in the South American country and put an end to "all murder and torture" by the military junta there.

California jobless rate (8%) tops national mark

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Shrinking job markets in every major industry over the past 12 months pushed the California unemployment rate above 8 per cent in October for the second consecutive month, the state reported Friday.

The jobless rate stood at 8.1 per cent last month compared to 6 per cent nationally and 8.2 per cent for the state in September. The two-month unemployment rate was the worst since April, 1972.

The state Employment Development Department said the growth rate in jobs during the last 12 months plunged to 1.3 per cent with only 98,800 new positions added to the market.

Between October 1972 and 1973 industry added 496,700 new jobs for a healthy 6.8 per cent rate of growth.

"These figures show that the combined effect of economic sluggishness and inflation have seriously limited industrial expansion and therefore job opportunities," the department reported.

Compared with September, the number of Californians in jobs and the number looking for work were both down last month.

There were 629,500 jobless Californians, 21,600 fewer than in September, but total employment dropped by 51,000 to 8.45 million persons.

Agriculture had the sharpest decline in October, down 42,800 jobs to 323,100, as the harvest season drew to a close.

The state said that employment has declined in every major industry over the last 12 months, with manufacturing and construction industries leading the way.

Manufacturing jobs dropped by 18,700 over the last 12 months compared to the previous year when 140,400 were 400, while in the previous 12 months a gain of 43,200 was recorded.

Brown in Ontario urges all to vote 'their pocketbooks'

By L. T. ROGERS
Asst. City Editor

Edmund Brown Jr., Democratic nominee for governor, urged some 200 residents in Ontario Friday night to follow President Ford's advice and "vote their pocketbooks" next Tuesday.

Then with a grin, he reported that his grocery bill has gone up every month. Brown listed such items as milk, cereal, canned goods and hamburger.

"Ford tells us to vote our pocketbooks and vote out inflation. Then five hours after he leaves Iowa he tells us we will have higher meat prices," he added.

"Ford has promised to raise the cost of beef to consumers to protect the farmers of Iowa."

Brown predicted the President would raise the beef prices by raising the federal purchase of beef which will increase the demand. This, he noted, was a reversal to former President Nixon's lifting of imports on beef to drive down prices.

The state candidate made a brief campaign stop at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Simon Klitenic enroute to Bakersfield.

Flanked by state Sen. Ruben Ayala, D-20th District, and Assembly candidates Bill McVittie and Terry Goggins, he urged a Democratic sweep to help him pass legislation that will benefit California residents.

The several hundred persons who crowded into the two-story home represented a cross section of the community. There were teachers, housewives, firemen, students, and even a judge.

Brown arrived shortly after 6 p.m. and mingled freely with the crowd, shaking hands, signing autographs and praising the local candidates.

He spoke for about a half hour during which he criticized Ford, Gov. Reagan and his Republican opponent, Houston Flournoy as being "high spenders."

Brown informed the audience that voters don't cure a Republican disease by electing a Republican doctor. He then urged that Democrats be elected to cure inflation and other problems in the state.

He took special issue with applications totaling $900 million for utility rates increases now pending in the state. "They are rushing in before I am elected," he said.

"It is time to put the people and the consumer first in the utilities. The rates should be no higher than necessary."

Before leaving, Brown was presented a key to the City of Ontario by Mayor Paul Treadway. In response, Brown invited the city to carry its flag for display to his election eve program at the Los Angeles Convention Center.

KILLED IN EXPLOSION — Argentine Federal Police Chief Alberto Villar, killed Friday along with his wife, Elsa, in a terrorist bomb explosion. Villar, 51, was a tough, anti-subversive expert brought out of retirement to combat guerrillas. Villar and his wife were just pulling away from the docks — 20 miles north of Buenos Aires — on board their cabin cruiser when the explosion occurred.

To support Pomona school issues

2 grants received by teachers group

The Associated Pomona Teachers (APT) has received two grants totaling $600 from the Association for Better Citizenship (ABC) of the California Teachers Association (CTA) for support of education issues in Pomona.

A grant of $200 was made to the Citizens Committee for Quality Schools for use in its support of Proposition QQ on Tuesday's ballot.

Proposition QQ is a Pomona school district proposal to increase its general purpose tax rate by $1.44 per $100 of assessed valuation.

This is the first time ABC has granted funds in support of a school district tax override measure.

A second grant of $400 was given to the Montes for School Board Committee for use in its campaign to have Mrs. Mary Montes elected to the Pomona school board in Tuesday's election.

ABC is the statewide political arm of the CTA. It is bipartisan. It provides financial assistance to incumbents, candidates and issues favorable to education.

The Representative Council of APT had requested financial assistance for Proposition QQ and Mrs. Montes' campaign following its endorsements of both.

Educators meet at Boys Republic

Boys Republic in Chino will be the site for the California Continuation Education Association's District 8 fall conference today.

State Sen. Ruben Ayala, D-20th Dist., is guest speaker at the morning general session, and Marianne Dancy of the Institute for Reality Therapy will speak at the afternoon session.

There will be small group discussion sessions in the morning, and guests for the day will be offered tours of facilities at Boys Republic.

The conference is being cohosted by Buena Vista Continuation High School of Chino and Boys Republic. Buena Vista Principal Harvey Holland will be chairman of the afternoon session. Glen Venard, Boys Republic High School principal, will lead the morning session.

District 8 of the association includes teachers, administrators, instructional aides, secretaries and other staff members of continuation high schools from San Bernardino and Riverside counties.

The conference is an attempt to offer in-service training to help administrators and staffs of various schools to reach their objectives.

Educators who are not members of the association are welcome to attend, and should contact Venard. The registration fee of $4 includes lunch.

Man, 21, guilty in fatal crash sent to CYA

A young Pomona man was committed to the custody of the California Youth Authority Friday on his conviction of manslaughter in the traffic deaths 13 months ago in Glendora of a La Verne couple.

The man, Robert Montag Jr., 21, was found guilty of the offenses in a Pomona Superior Court jury trial last July. He was committed to the CYA Friday by Pomona Superior Court Judge Francis J. Garvey.

The victims were William Alexander, 69, and his wife, Florence, 65. They lived at 2717 Arrow Highway. The accident occurred on Arrow Highway east of Sunflower Avenue Sept. 16, 1973. Two passengers in Montag's car were injured in the crash as was Montag.

California highway patrolmen said Montag's car was westbound in Arrow Highway when it came upon another car, swerved into the center divider and broadsided into the eastbound lanes, colliding with the Alexanders' car.

The Alexanders had lived in La Verne for 22 years. Alexander was a retired linotype operator for a Pasadena newspaper.

The fact that Montag was less than 21 at the time of the accident made him eligible for CYA custody. Judge Garvey's action was not opposed by the district attorney's representative.

R.R. workers walk off jobs

VANCOUVER (UPI) — Members of British Columbia Railways' shopcraft unions walked off their jobs Friday, but the freight and passenger line continued normal operations.

Union spokesman Norm Farley said pickets would not be set up until Sunday to give the company "three days to get somebody at the bargaining table who can move on the major issues."

He said lack of progress in contract talks with the provincial government-owned railway has been due to company negotiators "lacking authority."

A NEW SIGN FOR AN OLD COMPANY

Gil Wayne, president of FMC Wayne sweeper plant in Pomona, watches as a new six-foot-high FMC trademark identification sign is erected on the sweeper division main plant near the corner of Lexington Avenue and Reservoir Street in Pomona. The plant, formerly Wayne Manufacturing Co., became a part of the FMC Corp. in 1973. The reason for the new sign is part of an international identity program begun by FMC to standardize its corporate plant and sales office identification.

Inflation rated No. 1 issue by assembly candidates

Infation with its accompanying evils is the No. 1 issue with both major party candidates seeking the new 62nd Assembly District seat in Tuesday's election.

Inflation is destroying the purchasing power of senior citizens who must live on fixed incomes, driving the cost of living higher and higher and spiraling costs of government at all levels, they say.

Bringing it under control must be the No. 1 concern of government, they agree.

The two candidates, conducting largely person-to-person campaigns, are Democart Jerry Jordan, 44, Covina, an attorney and financial administrator now working fulltime in his campaign; and Assemblyman William Lancaster, 43, R-49th Dist., Covina.

Jordan, a native of Mishawaka, Ind., who has lived in California 30 years, has walked precincts distributing leaflets, placed advertisements in newspapers and talked before groups at every opportunity. He would welcome the opportunity, if elected, to work on restoring honesty in government, he said.

"And," Jordan continued, "we must find a way to make government more efficient and thereby slow down inflation."

Jordan sees himself as the people's candidate, and his opponent as the candidate of big business.

Lancaster feels he is the better qualified of the two for the Assembly seat because of his training and experience.

He served six years as field administrator for U.S. Rep. Charles E. Wiggins, R-25th Dist., before being elected to the Assembly in 1972.

Prior to that, he served seven years on the Duarte City Council, including three terms as mayor.

"I've had experience at city, state and federal levels," said Lancaster. His hometown is Bakersfield.

Immediately behind inflation, Lancaster mentioned public school financing as the No. 2 issue. "The courts have given us six years to correct inequities, under the Serrano-Priest Decision. I agree the state has its responsibilities to adequate finance education, but we must be very careful that we do not eliminate local control," said Lancaster.

A constitutional amendment clarifying the Serrano-Priest decision probably will be required to fix the state's responsibility in financing education,' Lancaster said.

"I'm firmly convinced we can do anything we want to do," said Lancaster, "but we can't do everything at once. We have to establish priorities to make government more effective in bringing about the desired results. The taxpayers can't afford to run ill-advised programs. We must establish priorities in government."

Lancaster, who spent about $6,000 in his primary election campaign, and estimates his campaign this fall will cost another $20,000, is outspending his opponent in seeking the new Assembly seat.

Jordan spent $6,000 in the primary and said he will spend another $6,000 this fall.

The 62nd Assembly District includes the communities of Claremont, La Verne, San Dimas, Glendora, Covina and West Covina.

It has 118,830 registered voters.

A breakdown by party shows the Democrats only slightly ahead of the Republicans. There are 56,521 registered Democrats, accounting for 47.6 per cent of the total vote.

There are 54,616 registered Republicans, accounting for 46 per cent of the vote in the district.

The American Independent Party, with 618 registered voters; Peace and Freedom Party, with 391; miscellaneous registrations with 190; and a whopping 6,494 registered voters who declined to state any party affiliation, account for the remainder.

City applies for job training funds

San Dimas officials have applied to Los Angeles County for $63,318 in funds under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act that will provide on the job training for employes at city hall and two local agencies.

The City Council gave its approval of the application and plans to use a portion of the funds to hire and train three full-time park and maintenance workers. The remainder of the funds will be shared with the Bonita Unified School District and the La Verne-San Dimas Open Door.

The City of La Verne has also made an application for the funds and, if approved, will contribute to programs at the Open Door and the school district.

San Dimas plans to use $30,856 to train the three new workers. A total of $19,200 would be given to the school district for vocational materials and equipment and to employ two part time administrative trainees. The program will be coordinated closely with private industry to discover manpower needs and develop a long-range vocational training program for the area. The City of La Verne plans to contribute $20,800 to the school district's vocational program.

The Open Door would receive $4,800 from San Dimas to hire two part-time counselors. The City of La Verne will match this amount.

Mark Flannery, administrative assistant in San Dimas, said the funding program is limited to one year and is similar to the now defunct Public Employment Program.

Flannery said $8,462 of the funds would be used to pay the salaries of the administrative staff at the three agencies who will supervise the training of the new employes.

He said both cities will be notified by Wednesday whether the county has accepted the applications.

In another action Tuesday the San Dimas council approved a $400 loan to the San Dimas Bicentennial Advisory Commission to purchase license plate holders that will be resold to raise funds for bicentennial projects.

Councilman James McLean recommended that the City Council loan the needed funds to the commission. The plate holders will have the name San Dimas, USA, across the top and two replicas of the American flag across the bottom with the dates 1776-1976 to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the nation.

D. F. Hooper, chairman of the commission, told the council that the plate holders will cost the commission about $1 per plate and will be sold to residents of the community for $5 a pair.

Hooper said the project will not only raise funds for the commission's projects but will also be a way to identify the community of San Dimas.

The Bicentennial Commission received an additional boost this week when Rep. Victor Veysey, R-43 Dist., attended the City Council meeting to present the commission its charter membership and also an official bicentennial flag.

Veysey presented the items to Mayor James Lough and commented "I hope to participate with you in some of your planned activities."

Called 'premature'

Council won't give traffic sign plan the right-of-way

The Caremont City Council has sent back to the Traffic Safety Commission a recommendation calling for the removal of a four-way stop at Bonita and Berkeley avenues and installing of a four-way stop further west of Berkeley and Mountain Avenue.

Director of Public Works Paul E. Cook and Police Chief Charles R. Lines recommeneded against the removal of signs at Berkeley and Bonita because it would be "premature."

They said that because of the lack of a sidewalk on the north side of Bonita Avenue and available parking on Berkeley that the intersection is quite active with pedestrians and vehicles.

They said that ultimately Berkeley Avenue will be closed south on Bonita, and that the stop signs on Bonita should be removed at that time.

The council also received a letter from commission Chairman Bill Case who said that "I am not at all sure" the commission would agree with Cook's new recommendation that the stop signs remain at Bonita and Berkeley. The commission will reconsider the matter Nov. 11.

The council approved other recommendations about crosswalks and stop signs from the commission.

The council approved a recommendation from the Parks and Recreation Commission to raise adult tennis lesson fees by a certified pro from $12 to $15.

A budget freeze of $39,930 in expenditures was approved by the council after it was explained that revenue from retail sales and building permits appears to be coming in at a rate "substantially lower than budgeted."

City Manager Keith Mullrooney asked the council to ratify the reductions in various departments with the provision that the city manager may reinstitute them when money becomes available.

The council approved the changing of the name San Garbriel Valley Municipal Data System to Municipal Data Systems, eliminating any reference to the San Gabriel Valley.

P-B supplement has story on winning coaches

Why some coaches always produce winning teams will be explained in Family Weekly in Sunday's Progress-Bulletin.

Family Weekly chats with four football coaches—two college and two pro. Paul "Bear" Bryant of the University of Alabama, Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame, Don Shula of the Miami Dolphins and Chuck Knox of the Los Angeles Rams discuss what they look for in new players, how they attract them to their teams, and how they build morale and precision teamwork that make for championship seasons.

Food editor Marilyn Hansen offers another "day before payday" recipe for the budget-conscious cook.

The last interview with Jacqueline Susann is another highlight Sunday. Her topic was fathers and daughters. She remembered her own father and what influence he had on the kind of man she married.

Palestinian debate postponed by U.N.

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)— The United Nations has decided to postpone the historic Palestinian debate until mid-November, apparently to give Arab guerrillas more time to plan political strategy.

The General Assembly —at the request of the Arab states —agreed Thursday night to delay the start of the three-day debate until Nov. 13.

The Arabs gave no reason for the one-week postponement, but diplomats said the Palestinian Liberation Orgaization apparently needed more time to plan political strategy and resolve its differences with Jordan.

St. Lucy's Priory to hold fund-raising event

The Lucians of St. Lucy's Priory High School in Glendora will present the annual Boutique de Noel Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the school, according to Mrs. Stanley Baker, Lucian president and boutique chairman.

Mrs. Albert Bonfiglio is co-chairman of the annual fund-raising activity which will include the sale of Christmas gifts, a variety of food and entertainment.

The Dads' Club will also be in charge of traffic control, cleanup and general policing.

The freshman class, moderated by Sister Elizabeth Brown, Judy Matta and Trina Halsted, will sponsor the fish pond, candy cane tree and clown toss. The sophomores, moderated by Sister Monica, Teri Askey and Bill Shaw, will operate a white elephant shoppe.

The juniors, moderated by Sister Angela, Dani Gaffney and Virginia Rootlieb, will sponsor home crafts and serve fresh pie and coffee. The seniors, moderated by Sister Giovanna and Sister Elizabeth Von Tersch, will operate a pizza parlor. Joseph Cimino and Mrs. Louis Passarelli will coordinate the students who will make and bake the pizzas.

The art class, taught by Mrs. Halsted, will display and sell original student art work. The French Club will serve cream puffs. An added attraction this year is the Mexican dinner prepared and served by the Spanish Club under the direction of Nellie Rampoldi. The drama class, directed by John Francis, will present two performances of "Cinderella" at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

An artists garret will feature the work of Sister Christelle and Mrs. Halsted. Silk screening will be shown along with glass blowing and caricatures by the Norman brothers.

Entertainment will include a mariachi band, the St. Lucy's choir and the Little Theater players.

Others assisting are Mrs. Thomas Soran, telephone; Mrs. Richard Mabie, personnel; Mrs. James Ellrott, publicity; Mrs. Stephen Kerekes, Richard Hinton, Mrs. Peter Brogran, Mrs. Robert Fryke, Mrs. Walter Pierce, Mrs. Norman Bertscheller, Mrs. Glenn Robson, Mrs. John MacFarlane and Mrs. Manuel Valero, area chairmen.

All proceeds will be used to curriculum expansion.

One for the book: a record quail egg

Dorothy B. Stapp began raising quail as something to do in her spare time. Little did she know five months ago that one of her hens would produce an egg of record size.

The quail egg weighs 19½ grams and has a diameter of 1 3-32 inches and a length of 1 1-16 inches. The egg's circumference is 3⅝ inches. It was sized by a notary public who prepared a notarized document of the information at the request of Mrs. Stapp.

Mrs. Stapp purchased about 200 quail eggs at 20 cents each five months ago. She placed the eggs in an incubator, and 150 of the eggs hatched.

"You've heard the riddle of what came first, the chicken or the egg? The egg came first for us," quipped Mrs. Stapp.

The Montclair housewife mixed a special feed together which she gave to all the quails. She credits this feed — containing ingredients she won't reveal — with the size of this egg, and others which are double the size of the normal quail egg.

Mrs. Stapp, who was raised on a Texas chicken farm, plans on starting a quail farm in San Bernardino County. She is currently looking for five to 10 acres of agriculturally zoned land in the West End.

She estimates business production of between 100,000 and 500,000 birds yearly. The business would involve the sale of quail, quail eggs and pickled quail eggs.

And what will she do with the large egg already developed?

"I'm going to put it in the incubator and see what I get," she answered.

LARGE QUAIL EGG

Mrs. Dorothy B. Stapp of Montclair holds and compares a large quail egg that came from quails fed a special formula feed at her Montclair business to the normal size egg. Mrs. Stapp hopes to open a quail business soon.

Teen wins aquarium in contest at store

BRIAN GOODSON

Brian Goodson, a freshman at Pomona High School, was the winner of a 40-gallon fish aquarium recently. The aquarium was given away in a drawing sponsored by Global Aquarium of Pomona during its first anniversary sale.

Brian, who became interested in tropical fish several months ago, was able to obtain his first aquarium recently with the money he earned delivering papers for the Progress-Bulletin. With the aquarium he won in the drawing he will now have room for twice as many fish.

Global Aquarium's drawing is open to anyone who wishes to register for it. Another free aquarium will be given away today during Global Aquarium's moonlight sale.

Coordinating unit moves meeting site

The Claremont Coordinating Council has changed its meeting place the second Wednesday each month from Griswold's to Taylor Hall, 1717 N. Indian Hill Blvd.

The Nov. 13 meeting will feature a program on the new juvenile diversion project with guest speakers Frank Hungerford, Claremont city councilman; Lt. Dee Griggs, La Verne Police Department; project director Larry Rubin, and John Owsley, community worker.

The program will begin at 12:30 p.m. after lunch.

Reservations are required by next Friday and may be made through Aileen Robinson at 593-4865.

Hospital gets okay to expand cancer service

Inter-Community Hospital in Covina has received approval by the California Medical Association to add a tumor board and a tumor registry to its present cancer program.

In addition the tumor board and registry received funding approval by the American Cancer Society.

The tumor board and registry are key requirements in the standards of an approved cancer program of the American College of Surgeons.

Under the supervision of the hospital medical staff cancer committee, the tumor board will offer staff and area physicians consultation opportunity in diagnostic and therapeutic problems of the cancer patient.

The tumor registry is a data bank of individual profiles which has records of diagnosis, treatment and follow-up care given to each cancer patient.

Find out who gives you the most tire for your money in this town

How many tire dealers can you count on one finger who publicly display their tire prices in the store so all their customers can check them any time they drive in?

If you can't think of a single one, we can.

Us.

We also publish as many of our prices as we can accommodate in our weekly ads in this newspaper.

You'll never find us juggling prices so we can lower this one or that one to sucker you in for a hurry-up one-week-only special sale. Or second-tire-half-price. Or any other such nonsense.

We don't care if you come to 4day this week or next year, so long as you do get here eventually.

Every tire we carry is sold at cut prices always, not just some of the time. We run our "weekly specials" for a full 52 weeks a year.

No ups. No downs. No "as low as", referring to tiny tire sizes that fit a power lawn mower.

It's to our advantage to have you shop around and compare our prices. That's why we publish them freely, to make it as easy as we possibly can to check us against all the others.

We don't mind a bit when a shopper comes in, jots down our prices, ask questions, and then drives out promising to be back later maybe. We love that. Most come right back the same day.

Actually, it's easier to do it by telephone.

Keep your guard up, of course. Make sure you know what tire is being quoted, what size, what type of construction, whitewall or blackwall and what's included and what isn't.

Does the price include the tube, if it's a tube type tire?

Do you have to turn in a retreadable casing to buy at the quoted price?

Does the price include installation? Valve stems? Dynamic (not static) balance?

And, very important, is the tire guaranteed for a minimum number of miles?

Long wear isn't the only thing you want in a tire.

Comfort, handling, steadiness in the turns, skid resistence, carrying capacity, gasoline mileage. All those are important too, but difficult to compare.

We tell you the same things everybody else tells you about those. Our tires will match or beat any others, tire for tire and price for price.

But that's pretty vague, whether we say it or someone else does.

* * *

One sure and very specific comparison is maximum cost per mile if the tire is offered with a minimum mileage guarantee, as all of ours are.

Note the last column of figures in each of our price list modules in today's ad.

Cost per 1000 miles of every tire.

Revealing, isn't it?

Well, that's the way we do business. Everything on top of the table.

You can afford to do that when you know you're underselling all the others.

Does quoted price include the tube?

Not all tires are tubeless.

Many tires for sports cars and compacts, and some tires in sizes for Detroit cars, are still tube type.

When you're quoted a tire price, make sure you don't discover later that it requires a tube which sells for $5 or $6 or maybe $7. That's one way to be competitive on the tire and get it back on the tube.

Almost every tire we carry is the tubeless type.

The only tube type tires we carry are tires which are unobtainable in tubeless construction. These are plainly posted, in our ads and in our stores.

And, as if we had to mention it, we cut prices on our tubes as well as on our tires.

Explains barnstorming

Ford's prestige at stake in election

By GEORGE J. MARDER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford has more at stake in Tuesday's elections than any candidate running for office.

His prestige, career, and administration are involved, even though his job is not. That may help explain his campaign barnstorming.

Day by day, for the next two years, Ford will have to deal with the Congress elected Tuesday. It is not a pleasant prospect for a president who has no mandate from the people on his own.

The outlook is for Democrats to increase majorities in both Senate and House. The size of those majorities may determine the shape and fate of anti-inflation, anti-recssion, anti tax loophole and other major legislation before the 94th Congress.

The behind-the-scenes story on health care reform indicates the stakes involved.

Health care legislation was caught in a three-way battle this term. The Nixon administration favored health care insurance which was administered by private companies and paid for by employers and workers.

Organized labor supported comprehensive national health insurance through the Social Security System.

The American Medical Association backed tax breaks for those who could pay for health insurance and government subsidies for those who couldn't.

In his first message to Congress, Ford asked for a health care bill before final adjournment. The sides could not agree and the last Congress had only a stalemate.

If the makeup of the next Congress is pretty much the same, the stalemate could continue. Supporters of national health insurance are counting on an influx of Democrats to put their proposal over in the next Congress.

The veto is another example of what is at stake. In three weeks of campaigning which will include 19 states, Ford appealed to the voters not to send a "veto-proof Congress" to Washington and upset the checks and balance system.

Vetoes are not decided in Congress by party votes. More often than not, there is a substantial crossover. There has to be for a veto to be overridden. Most vetoes are decided on liberals versus conservatives.

To the extent that more Democrats vote liberal, Tuesday's election could affect the veto confrontations sure to come in the next Congress.

If Ford runs for president in 1976, as he expects, he will need Republican governors to provide the political base for a successful bid.

Republicans are currently expected to lose their hold on powerhouse states such as California and New York and possibly Massachusetts and Michigan as well.

If that happens, the Democrats would control the nation's 10 most populous states.

Ford's prestige is involved because of his campaigning.

Some argue that the best politics for a president in a midterm election is to do his best and stay out of the campaigns.

But Ford decided to intervene directly because Republican apathy was threatening many GOP candidates with defeat. He put his prestige and ability as a campaigner on the line in the hope of cutting Republican losses.

"The more you take from it, the bigger it grows — what is it?" Answer: "A hole."

Such puzzling questions are called riddles.

Guessing riddles is an age-old game. Like fables and folk tales, riddles belong to all times and races. They have been passed down from one generation to the next since ancient times.

The Bible is a source of many riddles.

The early peoples took their riddles seriously. Homer, the great Greek poet, is said to have died of humiliation because he could not answer a riddle.

Today riddles are used merely as a pleasant pastime. They often involve a pun, or play upon words in which one word is said when another is meant. "When is a blue book not a blue book?" is a familiar pun riddle. The answer is: "When it is read (red), of course!"

A picture riddle, such as the one in our picture, is called a rebus. (The answer is a "Rose.")

A radio, camera, globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

For Sunday, Nov. 3

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Ideas you're toying with at this time that are inventive or progressive have the best chance of fruition. Dated plans are less reliable.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your budget will appreciate it if you do more things of a service nature for yourself, rather than far mthem out and pay another.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A good day to get in touch with one you've met recently who impressed you as being a person of unusual interests. Knowledge will be gained.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't sit on any hunches that come to you today regarding members of your family. You'll sense things they're not aware of.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you get a spur-of-the-moment impulse to get in touch with a pal, do so. It will turn a dull day into something exciting.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Lady Luck is likely to reward you materially at this time in a way that is rather unusual. Don't turn down what appears to be a white elephant.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Lay aside things that are of a routine nature today. Try something new you've been wanting to do but haven't gotten around to yet.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Something you didn't count on or probably won't even be aware of for awhile is going on behind the scenes. It will be for your ultimate benefit.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This is a day when quick decisions count for more than usual. The way you decide on issues will greatly influence others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) For the time being, your most-marked advances will come through the use of new techniques. Experiment a bit to see what can be improved.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Youngsters will respond more readily to what you have to teach them now if you use imaginative methods to arouse their interests.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're lucky now in situations where relatives or members of your immediate family are involved. Something out of the ordinary is about to pop.

Your Birthday Nov. 3

This year you will be helped by friends in two areas where you hope to advance your self-interests. The manner in which this will unfold will be unique.

Cage-confined mice need not be bored

By DR. FRANK MILLER

DEAR DR. MILLER: Sometimes I get this strong, gut-level feeling that my mice, Mini and Maxi, get pretty bored. Maxi was bored before I got Mini. I thought she'd solve the problem, but she's kind of a wishy-washy mouse and doesn't do much for him; still, he's stuck with her now. The problem: What do you do for bored mice? — L. H.

Dear L. H.: You can shift their cage around occasionally to give them a new view, provide them occasionally with new cereals to sample. If they have a large enough cage, you can set them up with a tunnel or some other type of exploratorium, a maze, various toys, etc. Don't provide them with shredded nesting material, give them tissue paper and let them tear it up to suit themselves. Hobbies on up to and including, strictly as a last resort, cat-watching (from a SAFE distance and behind bars ONLY), may be tried. For Mini, maybe a Carnegie-type course, or a book on the sensuous mouse.

DEAR DR. MILLER: My own veterinarian told me aspirin was poison to cats, and I read it in your column, too. Along comes my sister who just last week gave her cat a half an aspirin twice a day for a sore back. Did it kill her cat? It did not. It cured it. It's been perfectly well since then. How do you explain that, when it should have been dead according to all you doctors? — S.M.

Dear. S. M.: Fortunately, most animals, including people, who are poisoned, don't die from it. Instead, they show varying degrees of illness or, if they're extremly lucky, perhaps show no symptoms at all. That dosage of aspirin could have killed your sister's cat. Ten grains of aspirin or less have proven fatal to felines. Whether her cat's sore back would have recovered as quickly without the aspirin isn't important. What is is that such a "cure" next time could eliminate the back pain and the cat at about the same time. Further, all medication of a pet's pain is dangerous (even if it's not a "poison" prescription) since the inevitable delay in getting the animal to the doctor may result in the loss of a pet which could have been saved had correct diagnosis and treatment been made early enough.

A safety play saves contract

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Some declarers like to show off and make a lot of overtricks. Others, including practically all successful rubber bridge players, go after their contract first and work on overtricks later.

With everything breaking perfectly and all finesses working, South can make six notrump. A pessimist sees that bad breaks can beat three notrump, unless great care is taken.

Opening lead—Q♥

So our pessimistic expert wins the heart lead in his own hand; he leads a diamond to dummy's ace and a second diamond toward his hand. This is a standard safety play designed to produce four diamond tricks against any 4-1 diamond break. Of course, there are always four tricks against any 3-2 break.

Assuming East plays low, South sticks in his nine; cashes the king; returns to dummy with the ace of spades and knocks out East's queen of diamonds.

This insures nine tricks, but if East leads back a heart, South can come to 10. He wins in dummy; cashes the last diamond; cashes his last high spade and if he has kept count can throw West in with a heart and make him lead to the ace-queen of clubs.

Less than half of draft dodgers still in Sweden

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Less than half the U.S. draft dodgers and deserters who took refuge in Sweden still live there, according to Count Wilhelm Wahctmeister, Sweden's new ambassador to the United States.

Of about 1,000 Americans who fled to Sweden at the peak of the Vietnam War, only about 400 have remained, he said.

He said most Americans have integrated into the labor market and have either married or moved in with Swedish women. They would be eligible for citizenship after seven years, he said.

The prevailing Swedish attitude toward the United States is favorable, the ambassador said, but has cooled from the "almost emotional pro-Americanism" of the pre-Vietnam War days.

He said the two countries have resolved difficulties the war caused between them.

Social Security tax to rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For 19 million workers, the Social Security tax bite will increase next year.

Workers earning more than $13,200 a year, one in every five employees covered by Social Security, will pay taxes on salaries up to $14,100, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has announced.

This means increased taxes of up to $52.65 each for a wage earner and his employer and $71.10 for a self-employed person, HEW said. The maximum Social Security tax the wage earner will pay in 1975 will be $824.85 and a self-employed person, $1,113.90.

Workers earning $13,200 a year or less, the cutoff point this year, are not affected by the increase required under 1972 and 1973 Social Security legislation. The base this year increased from $10,800 in 1973.

While workers contribute an additional $1.8 billion to Social Security next year, retirees will be able to keep more of their earnings without losing Social Security benefits, up from $2,400 to $2,520 a year, HEW said.

Retirees earning more than $2,520 in 1975 still can get some Social Security benefits, but every additional dollar earned will deduct 50 cents from their benefit checks.

The Social Security tax rates of 5.85 per cent each for the worker and his boss and 7.9 per cent for self-employed workers remain unchanged. The changes are effective Jan. 1.

"In return for the increase in taxes, these affected workers will have greater protection because a larger amount of their earnings will be credited toward benefits than before," said HEW Secretary Caspar Weinberger.

"This will mean higher benefits for them and their families in the event of retirement, disability or death than would have been possible without an increase in the base."

UPS AND DOWNS — Chart shows percentages of unemployment in U.S. over the past 10 years. Labor Department said Friday another 200,000 Americans joined the ranks of unemployed in October, pushing nation's jobless rate to 6 per cent, highest in three years. The unemployment rate last hit 6 per cent in November, 1971 and last exceeded that figure 13 years ago in November, 1961 at 6.1 per cent.

Cancer research chief sees no dramatic breakthrough

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The director of the National Cancer Institute has told Congress not to expect any dramatic advances in cancer research.

"... research is not likely to produce a single, dramatic means to prevent or cure all of the 100 or more forms of cancer," NCI director Frank J. Rauscher said in his annual report on the National Cancer Program.

But he said there has been slow and steady progress against cancer—the nation's second leading killer next to heart disease. He said survival of cancer patients has nearly doubled in the last 40 years, and one of every three persons with cancer today will be alive five years after treatment.

In his report, one of four cancer reports to Congress released today by the White House, Rauscher also said:

—Unless present trends are changed, cancer will strike 25 per cent of all Americans, an estimated 655,000 new cases will be diagnosed in the United States this year and 355,000 persons will die this year from some type of cancer.

—Lung cancer is still at epidemic levels and should claim 75,000 victims this year.

—Every 15 minutes an American woman dies of breast cancer.

—Defeatist attitudes of the health profession and the public have been a major obstacle to improved rehabilitation of cancer patients.

—Recent studies show the cancer death rate for black men in the United States increased 50 per cent from 1950 to 1967, contrasted with a 1 per cent increase for white men.

Nader group hits food dye use as risky

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Ralph Nader research group says a widely used food dye is so dangerous that if a 110-pound pregnant woman drinks more than a third of a can of strawberry soda pop a day she risks either cancer or damaging her baby.

The dye involved is Red No. 2, used for everything from strawberry ice cream and soda pop to lipstick and pill coatings. About 1 million pounds of it was used in food and cosmetics last year.

Nader's Health Research Group asked the Food and Drug Administration to ban the dye in 1971.

Since then, it said Thursday, "consumers have eaten over $30 million worth of Red No. 2, exposing themselves to alarming and unnecessary risks."

It said there have been three Food and Drug Administration studies dating back to 1951 which "strongly indicate that Red No. 2 does cause cancer."

In addition, it calculated the dye "is safe as far as fetotoxicity is concerned only at extremely low levels."

A 110-pound pregnant woman, the group estimated, could "safely ingest only about one-third can of (red) soda daily."

"With conflicting results on the fetotoxicity alone, we believe FDA is obligated for the protection of the public to severely limit Red No. 2.

"As for the cancer effect, scientists are in agreement that no dose of a carcinogen can be determined as safe," the group said.

Gym classes for children

The Upland Recreation Department is offering gymnastics program for children and adults at fees ranging from $12 to $18.

The gymnastic classes will be taught by Charles Klumpp, formerly a champion on the sidehorse and the parallel bars, and Mary Lou Lussier, a physical education teacher in Yucaipa.

Klumpp was gymastic coach at Cal-Poly in Pomona from 1968 to 1970. Miss Lussier represents the Inland Valleys Muncipal Athletic Association on the Southern California Municipal Athletic Federation Gymnastics Committee Board.

Registration will occur in the new city hall of Upland in the Finance Department from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Precious beans

Coffee was cultivated by the Arabs who would not allow the exportation of the seed. The first coffee beans to leave the Arab lands were smuggled to India. In 1660, Holland received their first coffee plants in the same manner. Brazil, now famous for growing coffee beans, did not acquire plants until 1727.

Music teacher goes back

Brooklyn not what it was 54 years ago

By RICHARD SISK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Miss Janet Ivins went home to Brooklyn Monday for the first time in 54 years to visit the brownstone house where the doughboys came to call and the theater where she saw Caruso and Bernhardt.

The trolleys and the Fulton Street El, the Brooklyn Dodgers and the cobblestone streets and gaslights were gone but the faded three-story building where she spent her childhood was still standing.

"But it's so different," the 85-year-old former piano teacher and social worker said, recalling the cast-iron railings on the front steps and shuttered windows which her father had cherished but new owners had dispensed with.

And lifestyles had changed along with appearances, since her family moved to New Jersey in 1920.

Time to talk

"We had no television, of course," she said. "In the evening, we would play cards, sing, read, play the piano —but mostly we had time to talk."

Then the tiny, white-haired woman in the neat tan suit walked across the street to the Brooklyn Academy of Music, a landmark completed in 1907, and remembered the opening nights and the grand dames of Manhattan society arriving in their horse-drawn carriages.

As a girl, she said she had sat in the last row of the balcony there to see the actress Sarah Bernhardt and Enrico Caruso of the Metropolitan Opera.

"He was so marvelous," she said, "and he loved to sing here because we loved him so."

On the second floor was the hall where the Red Cross held dances for the doughboys leaving for France in World War I, she said. "I was allowed to go without a chaperone because we lived across the street."

Miss Ivins, who now lives in Summit, N.J., was the guest of Louis Singer, a deliverer for the New York Times and an amateur historian, who arranges tours of Brooklyn in his spare time.

At lunch, in Gage and Tollner's Restaurant, a Brooklyn tradition since 1879, Miss Ivins dwelled on the changes she has seen.

"People worked harder and for longer hours when I was a girl," she said," but somehow they seemed more content. It seems there was less hatred then and such a shame that so many of us have lost our trust in our fellow man."

Douglas claims Supreme Court not overworked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Justice William O. Douglas says his six colleagues on the Supreme Court are able but not willing to take on more cases.

"The number of cases we take to review on the merits is well below the tolerable limit and ... this case presents one of the most pressing problems on the modern scene," Douglas said.

Douglas repeated his claim that the high court is underworked after it refused to hear several cases recently.

Medic defends safety factor in most drugs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite claims that harmful reactions to drugs are costing America wasted dollars and needless deaths, the head of a Boston drug study program says most drugs in use today are remarkably safe when their bad effects are weighed against the good.

Dr. Hershel Jick said the Boston Collaborative Drug Surveillance Program, in operation since 1966, found that at least one adverse drug reaction occurred in about 30 per cent of 19,000 hospitalized persons studied.

If the Boston experience is indicative of national trends, he estimated 3 million people suffer some kind of undesired reaction to drugs in hospitals each year.

Jick also said about 3 per cent of patient admissions in Boston area hospitals are the result of adverse drug reactions, indicating hundreds of thousands of people enter hospitals annually because of bad effects of drugs. And he said that the Boston experience implies about 29,000 people die annually from drug effects.

In the first place, he said the great majority of drug reactions, although associated with discomfort, are minor and short lasting. The five most common reactions reported in the Boston study were nausea, drowsiness, diarrhea, vomiting and rash.

Of the 46 Boston patients whose deaths were attributed to a drug or drugs, Jick said one third had advanced cancer and another third had advanced alcoholic liver disease. Eight patients were already judged to be terminally ill and Jick said doctors believed 25 others were likely to die without drug therapy.

"Thus, less than one third of the drug-attributed deaths occurred in patients with a reasonably good short-term prognosis," he said.

"Serious adverse reactions are uncommon. They tend to occur in patients who are quite ill and tend to be restricted to a relatively small number of drugs that, by their nature, are known to be quite hazardous.

Drug induced deaths are quite rare and usually occur in patients who are severely ill. The majority of deaths are attributed to a small number of drugs.

"From the character of these drugs one may safely assume that the number of deaths produced is quite small in relation to the numbers of lives saved by these drugs," Jick said.

Jick also noted that drugs are heavily used in the United States. A 10-month study carried out in 24 Boston hospitals in 1972 suggested that at least 75 million adults take one or more drugs at least once a week and usually every day.

"It is evident that the large number of hospitalizations resulting from adverse drug reactions is a reflection more of the vast usage of drugs than of their toxicity," he said.

"If we wish to reduce the amount of drug toxicity substantially, we must reduce the number of drugs that people take."

Brief fasting in hospital best way to lose weight

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — The best way to lose excess weight and remain happy is to enter a hosfital and fast for a short time, says a Stanford University psychiatrist.

Dr. Albert J. Stunkard, chairman of the department of psychiatry and behavioral sciences, said shortterm fasting in a hospital environment "causes less stress to patients than programs in which there is severe caloric restriction."

Stunkard's conclusion was contained in an article he wrote with Dr. John Rush, a University of Pennsylvania psychiatrist in the October issue of the "Annals of Internal Medicine."

The doctors said there were three major treatments for patients hospitalized for obesity: short-term fasts lasting no longer than two weeks, low calorie diets and long-term fasts which might last 40 days.

"For fasting from 10 to 40 days there was a dramatic rise in emotional disturbance," Stunkard said.

In one study, he said, patients "showed definite mood fluctuations of marked degree," increased aggression and even "near psychotic episodes."

The psychiatrist said low calorie diets caused the same degree of emotional upsets as long-term fasting.

"These might be the critical values," Stunkard said. "They suggest that the disturbances might, in part at least, be precipitated by metabolic changes which doubtless occur in long-term fasting."

The doctor also said those who became overweight in childhood were more difficult to treat and had more emotional difficulties than those who became fat in adult life.

Clothing union to protest flood of imported goods

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Leaders of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America announced that their union plans widespread demonstrations Nov. 11 to protest the flood of imported men's and boy's clothing made in low-wage countries.

"Imports exacerbate an already disturbing situation," according to Murray H. Finley, president of the 1.4 million apparel workers union.

He said the imports of slacks, suits and shirts were "causing the loss of thousands and thousands of jobs and those who will be working will be working six to eight hours a week less."

Finley announced plans for demonstrations at union headquarters rallys in Chicago, Washington, New York and El Paso, Tex.

At his side stood a display of sample clothing that had been imported from Colombia, Taiwan and Korea.

According to labels on the samples a suit selling for $155 was made in Colombia by workers earning 25 cents an hour; a $15 shirt was made in Taiwan at 23 cents an hour, and a $165 suit was made in Korea where wages are only 11 cents an hour.

'Lava line' to tell when next volcano will erupt

VOLCANO NATIONAL PARK, Hawaii (UPI)—Move over crisis lines, life lines, hot lines and soul lines. If you live in Hawaii, you can now dial up a "lava line" and find out when the next volcano will erupt.

It's the latest in the specialty lines, installed in the community of Volcano, largest of the Hawaiian chain and home of the Hawaii Volcanoes National Park.

Callers can get a daily rundown on the activities of Madama Pele, Hawaii's traditional goddess of volcanoes, who routinely blows her top among the many craters and fissures in the park.

Officials at the park said a growing number of residents and tourists telephone for information to find out when the next eruption will occur and the volume has become too big for the staff to handle.

So the Hawaiian Telephone Co., a subsidiary of the General Telephone and Eelectronics Corp., installed a special phone number that plays back a taped message on Volcano activity.

Anthropologist warns against nuclear plants

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Margaret Mead warns that nuclear plants powered by breeder reactors in the 1980's may pose grave risks to public health.

The noted anthropologist said the breeder reactors will produce large amounts of deadly radioactive plutonium — a key ingredient in atomic weapons.

"What we have in prospect, then, if the proposed program ever reaches the commercial stage, is transport over public highways and eventual permanent storage not of pounds but tons of lethal plutonium that must be guarded every instant —for thousands of centuries to come," she said in an interview with Redbook magazine.

WANTED

A special family for this special home. We are looking for just the right family to enjoy this unique home. Not everyone will like her, just those who know a quality home when they see one. And appreciate good workmanship. This lovely home boasts of much love and care throughout the years. A proud home, which stands tall in one of Ontario's finest neighborhoods. The family we seek is a medium size family to fill the 3 spacious bedrooms. To enhance the dinner hour, there is a formal dining room where you can recap the day's events. Then retire to the living room for a quiet evening before a warm flickering fireplace. The Veternas Administration has already agreed with the asking price of $21,000. Won't you call now for a personal tour?

GOING IN FOR SIX

Ganesha High running back Arthur Lane slips through a hole in the Damien defensive to score the Giants' second touchdown of the night Friday. Ganesha went on to defeat the visiting Spartans.

Ganesha escapes, 35-21

By KEVIN CLOE
P-B Staff Writer

At first, it appeared to be no contest.

But then Ganesha High found itself forced to scramble in the fourth quarter in order to record a 35-21 victory over Damien in San Antonio League action Friday night at Mt. San Antonio College. The Giants, now 3-2 in league play and 3-3-1 for the season, took advantage of three Damien turnovers early in the first period to pull to a 20-0 lead before four minutes had expired in the quarter.

The hosts, celebrating their homecoming, then added another TD midway through the second period to widen their advantage to 27-0.

However, Damien put its first six points on the board in the second period and trailed at halftime, 27-6.

The Spartans tried to rally back with two touchdowns in the third period to draw within six points of the Giants, 27-21.

But then Ganesha put the game out of reach with 9:27 left in the game on a 40-yard run by Lawrence Jacques, following a timely pitch-out from quarterback Reggie Freeman.

By knocking off the Spartans, Ganesha denied its visitor a share of the SAL lead with only two weeks of play remaining.

Damien had gone into the game tied with Claremont for the lead, but dropped into a tie for second with Ganesha and Upland. The Spartans are now 3-2 in league and 5-2 for the season.

The score at the end of the first quarter should have read: Ganesha 20, Damien no show.

It didn't look like the Spartans wanted to play offense, and the Giants didn't give the Damien defense much time to get warmed up.

On its first play from scrimmage, Damien fumbled and Ganesha's Alex Perez pounced on it on the Spartan 14-yard line. Two plays later, fullback Earnest Brown took it into the end zone from four yards out. David Segura added the extra point.

Then on Damien's next possession, halfback Ruben Lopez fumbled on the first play of the abrupt series and this time Ron Rentz recovered for the Giants. Starting from the Damien 29-yard line, Ganesha took only four plays before Arthur Lane punched into the end zone from the three. Again Segura added the PAT.

That made it 14-0 with only three minutes gone in the game.

Damien again tried to get something going. But on its second play of that "series" Jim Holub picked off a Joe Carroll pass.

This time it took six plays from the Spartan 21 before the Giants could score again — a one-yard plunge by Freeman.

Damien's only score in the first half came on a 40-yard pass from Carroll to tight end Joe Repar, who made a brilliant over-the-shoulder catch after getting behind the Ganesha defenders. The two-point conversion attempt failed.

The Spartans scored on an unusual play early in the third period when defensive end Jim Davis pulled down a bobbled handoff in the Ganesha backfield and ran 45 yards for the score. The Spartans added another tally on 23-yard pass from Carroll to Paul Broadway with 1:35 remaining in the third quarter.

But on its first drive of the fourth period, Ganesha put the game away. The touchdown play, however, nearly failed to materialize. As Freeman was about ready to sweep around the right end a Damien defender grabbed the Ganesha QB. But the senior signal-caller instead pitched out to Jacques as he was being pulled down, and Jacques sprinted down the sidelines for the TD.

Jacques finished the game with 116 yards on 16 carries, while teammate Lane had 97 yards on 15 tries.

Montclair holds off Garey, 17-13

By MIKE BROSSART
P-B Correspondent

The Montclair Cavaliers surprised the Garey Vikings 17-13 Friday night in a San Antonio League game played at Montclair High. The Vikings took a goal line stand in the waning seconds of the football game, but the Cavalier defense was up to it.

Leading 14-13, Montclair settled for a 30-yard field goal by Randy Thomas with 3:12 remaining in the game.

Garey then started its final drive from its own 43. After back-to-back 17-yard end sweeps by Stanley Webster and Marcus Thomas, fullback Dana Hutchison burst 10 yards up the middle for a first down on Montclair's 12-yard line.

But four plays later the Cavalier defense held Webster to two yards when he needed four yards for the first down, and Montclair took possession on its own four with 41 seconds left in the game.

Following a penalty against the Cavaliers, quarterback Brent Jetton fell on the ball twice to run out the clock.

After an uneventful first quarter, Montclair tallied the first score of the game with 5:58 left in the first half. Jetton hit Tony Esquibel with a 39-yard touchdown pass and Randy Thomas kicked the extra point.

The touchdown was the first play after an interception by Montclair defensive back Fred Dominguez. Dominguez had two interceptions for the night.

Montclair led 7-0 at halftime.

The second half started with a bang. Viking Ray Hernandez fell on the opening kickoff at his own 42-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage Hutchison swept around the right end and took it all the way for the score. Manuel DeLeon's kick tied the score at 7.

But Jim Donaldson took DeLeon's kickoff at the 15 yard line and scooted through the Viking defenders for an 85-yard touchdown. Thomas kicked the PAT to give the Cavaliers a 14-7 edge.

It took only 41 seconds of the second half for the two touchdowns.

Garey came right back with the most sustained drive of the football game. Quarterback Marcus Thomas scored from the one-foot line on the 16th play of the Garey possession. The drive went 64 yards with five first downs.

The touchdown came with 3:41 left in the third period. DeLeon failed to kick the entra point, leaving the Vikings behind 14-13.

After the kickoff, Stanley Webster intercepted a third down pass from Jetton to give the Vikings excellent field possession at the Montclair 38. But Garey could not move the ball and Montclair took over on downs at its 37.

Montclair was forced to punt on fourth down, but Randy Thomas picked off a third down pass from Marcus Thomas after Garey gained possession. Eleven plays later Randy Thomas kicked the field goal to wrap up the scoring.

The Cavaliers amassed 82 yards rushing and 66 yards in the air. Jetton completed four passes in eight attempts with one interception. Larry Wallace gained 50 yards rushing and Donaldson had 44 yards.

The Vikings gained 242 yards in the game, all of them on the ground. Dana Hutchison led all rushers with 135 yards in 18 carries.

Garey's record in the SAL is now 2-2-1. Montclair is 1-4-0.

'Pack all alone now

By MARK GRIP
P-B Correspondent

The Wolfpack from Claremont High took over sole possession in the San Antonio League defeating Pomona High, 14-6 Friday night at Cal Poly.

The Claremont victory, combined with Damien's 35-21 loss to Ganesha, gives the Wolfpack the lead with a 4-1 league record, and 4-3 season record.

The 'Pack put the clincher on a one-point ball game in the fourth quarter.

With 4:31 remaining in the contest, Claremont quarterback Kent Stalwick connected with end Mike Toomay on a 21-yard scoring pass. Jim VanZee added the extra point, giving Claremont the victory margin.

The touchdown was set up five plays earlier after the Wolfpack punted to the Devils. With 6:26 to play, Stalwick fell on a loose football on the first play from scrimmage, giving Claremont the ball on the Pomona 22.

The Pack and VanZee tried to extend the lead to 11 points later in the period on a 35-yard field goal with 11 seconds left in the game. But the kick was blocked by Pomona's Jim Middleton.

The two teams played scoreless until Claremont broke the ice with 61 seconds left in the first half.

The Pack got rolling as tackle Jeff Whitton recovered a fumble on the Devil 47. Halfback Dan Thomas capitalized on the turnover six plays and one minute later on a four-yard touchdown run with VanZee adding the extra point.

The Devils finally got on the scoreboard on the last play of the third quarter.

Quarterback Mark Soto, who replaced starter John Souza early in the game, hit split end Middleton for 30-yards and a TD. Then what appeared at the time to be the big play of the game, Dave Zibell's PAT kick was blocked by Matt Weinberg giving Claremont a 7-6 lead.

Stalwick led all rushers with 84 yards on 18 carries, including consecutive runs of 20 and 17 yards that led to the second period TD by Thomas.

Thomas was close behind, carrying the ball 14 times for 74 yards and a score.

The only yards Pomona could muster on the ground were gained by Hank Zibell and Raymond Butler. Zibell, from his fullback position, carried the ball 11 times for 44 yards while the halfback Butler rushed 41 yards on 13 totes.

Most of the Devils' yardage was gained through the air behind the passing of Soto. The junior hit on 10-of-13 for 129 yards in his first full game at quarterback.

Claremont took a slight advantage in total offense, accumulating 192 yards to Pomona's 180.

Pomona controlled the ball about six more minutes than Claremont, 27 to 21, as the ball changed hands 17 times in the defensive struggle.

Upland defense blanks Cowboys

By GRAHAM CROW
P-B Correspondent

If Upland High defense had its choice, the Highlanders would play Chino High every game next year.

For the second season in a row, Upland's stout defense, led by defensive end Dave Pomierski, kept the Cowboys out of the end zone as the Highlanders moved into a three-way second place tie in the San Antonio League with a 17-0 victory at Upland.

The deepest penetration all night for Chino was to Upland's 28 yard line. But at the time, the Cowboys were behind 17-0, it was the final minute of play and Upland was content to simply employ a "prevent" defense.

Pomierski was the standout on the defensive unit as the strong junior made eight tackles, assisted on three others, sacked the quarterback twice and caused one fumble with a vicious hit on Chino signal caller Rich Kryzsiak.

Offensively the standout for Upland was the hard running red-headed fullback Dominc Licavoli. Licavoli outgained the entire Cowboy team in each half as he carried the ball 22 times for 132 yards and grabbed one pass for an additional 24.

On the other hand, Chino was able to accumulate just 104 yards in total offense. The once potent Cowboy offense, which scored 62 points in its season opener, has now been limited to only 38 points in its last six games, including three shutouts.

Upland put the game away in the second period after the two schools fought to a scoreless standoff in the first 12 minutes. With just 10 minutes remaining until the half, Bill Velto booted home a 35-yard field goal to give Upland a 3-0 lead.

On its next series, Upland started on its own 11 yard line and proceded to put together the only sustained drive of the ball game.

It took the Highlanders just 13 plays to travel 89 yards with the final one coming on a Jay Morton sneak. The big play of the drive was a 24 yard pass to Licavoli which took the Highlanders down to the six yard line.

The final score of the night was set up when defensive back Bruce Affeldt picked off a Cowboy aerial and returned it 15 yards to the Chino 23. Sparked by an 18 yard gallop by Licavoli, Upland was able to punch it across again from the one with Mike Rees handling the honors this time.

The loss officially knocked defending champion Cowboys cut of the 1974 SAL chase as their record fell to 1-4. Upland remained very much in contention with its 3-2 mark which places Bob Holycross' team one game behind Claremont and tied with Damien and Ganesha.

Upland's tough running attack picked up 195 yards against Chino, despite being nearly depleted by injuries. Mark Chapman and Mark White did not suit up for the game and Gary Carr saw limited duty. Morton was effective when he threw the ball for 64 yards on three completions in five attempts.

Next Friday night, Upland hosts Pomona in a key SAL game while Chino hosts Montclair in a battle for last place.

McKay warns Trojans about Golden Bears

By United Press International

Even though Southern California has won five in a row and allowed the opposition only 34 points in the stretch, coach John McKay isn't convinced about his team's total superiority against California today.

"Our offensive line has been too spotty for us to be a real good team," McKay said by way of getting the No. 6 ranked Trojans ready for the Cal game. "We've played very well at times but we don't seem to be able to sustain our attack as well as I'd like. The defense is playing well but we haven't really played any major powers yet."

Southern Cal, seeking its 18th straight Pacific 8 Conference victory, is a whopping 20-point favorite over California, which is 5-2 overall and 2-1 in the conference. The Trojans lead the Pac 8 race with a 3-0 record and their only loss this year was to Arkansas in the season-opener.

Elsewhere in the Pac 8, UCLA is an eight-point favorite over Washington at Seattle, Stanford is a 13-point pick over Oregon State at Palo Alto and Washington State is a four-point choice over Oregon at Eugene.

Goodrich paces Lakers

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Gail Goodrich scored 29 points Friday night as the Los Angeles Lakers raced to an easy 109-86 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks in an NBA game.

The loss was the sixth in seven games for the defending Midwest Division champion Bucks, who are playing without NBA Most Valuable Player Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who is sidelined with a broken hand.

The score was tied 16-16 when Goodrich went on a 11-point spree in the last four minutes of the first quarter to boost Los Angeles into a 31-22 lead.

Brian Winters, Goodrich's replacement, scored 12 points in the second quarter as the Lakers increased their advantage to 59-44 at halftime. Milwaukee never came closer than 11 points in the second half.

Goodrich added 12 more points in the third period and finished the night hitting 12-of-15 shots. He made nine in a row from the free throw line to run his streak to 21 straight over the last three games.

Jim Price scored 17 points for the Lakers and hit five consecutive free throws to increase his streak to 26. As a team, the Lakers have made 75 of their last 81 free throws.

Lucius Allen led Milwaukee with 21 points.

Dodgers cut Gail Hopkins

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The National League champion Los Angeles Dodgers released catcher-first baseman Gail Hopkins, a seven-year major league veteran, Friday.

Hopkins, 31, appeared in 15 games with the Dodgers in 1974, collecting four hits in 18 at bats.

The Dodgers also announced they have assigned pitcher Greg Shanahan, infielder Terry McDermott and outfielder Charlie Manuel to their Albuquerque farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Kings entertain Detroit tonight

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — With only one loss in their first 11 starts, the Los Angeles Kings host the Detroit Red Wings tonight in a bid to pad their lead in the NHL's Division 3.

After a 1-1 tie with St. Louis here Thursday night, Kings' coach Bob Pulford said, "We didn't play very well but maybe we had a bad one coming. Besides, we should be ready to play Saturday against Detroit."

Aaron wins HR derby

TOKYO (UPI) — Hank Aaron, baseball's greatest home run hitter, beat Sadaharu Oh, Japan's home run king, 10-9 Saturday in their contest at Korakuen Stadium.

Aaron won $50,000 and Oh received $20,000 from the sponsor of the event.

The contest was based on the number of home runs hit on 20 fair balls by each competitor. They alternated with five fair balls each.

Righthander Joe Pignatano, a coach of the New York Mets and former catcher of the Los Angeles Dodgers, pitched for Aaron and righthander Kuniyasu Mine, special batting practice pitcher for the Yomiuri Giants, was Oh's pitcher.

Oh went to the plate first and hit three homers into the rightfield fence. Aaron followed and belted two into the leftfield stands.

In his second trip to the plate, Oh hit three into the rightfield stands. Aaron followed and smashed four into the leftfield stands. And they were even 6-6.

In the third session, Oh hit only one into the rightfield bleachers. His other tries were fair balls to rightfield.

Aaron took a 9-7 lead by belting three into the leftfield stands in his third trip to the plate.

Oh in his last chance, smashed two into the rightfield stands for a 9-9 tie. He missed another by a slim margin.

Coming up to the plate for the last time, Aaron grounded to left and followed with another grounder through third. On the next pitch, though, he smashed a high fly into the leftfield bleachers for his winning and 10th homer.

Aaron immediately walked away from the plate and Oh rushed over to congratulate him. Aaron had two more fair balls to hit but the contest ended immediately after he defeated Oh by one home run margin.

Garcia's play action leads R. O.

By CRAIG TRAVIS
P-B Staff Writer

Alta Loma High played about as well as it can play football Friday night and Royal Oak, as usual, had a lot of action in its play.

But it was the play-action passing of quarterback Jim Garcia that paced the Romans to a 16-0 win at Chaffey College.

The win enables Len Mussacks' Romans (5-1-1 overall, 4-0-1 league) to stay on the heels of unbeaten Bonita (4-0) in the closely contested Hacienda League. Bonita plays Walnut (3-1) today at 1 p.m. at MSAC.

Garcia threw only nine passes, but his play action-passing froze the Alta Loma defense long enough to set up both touchdowns.

The Romans took an 8-0 lead on their first possession of the second quarter, driving 71 yards on eight carries.

On the initial play of the drive, Garcia faked a handoff into the line, rolled to his right and connected with Steve Hansen on a 40-yard hookup.

Seven plays later, Garcia scored on a bootleg from five yards out. Garcia then threw to Chris Tribble, coming out of the backfield, for the two-point conversion.

Linebacker Rich Hutsell intercepted a pass that led to Royal Oak's fourth period touchdown.

Hutsell's theft was one of four for the Romans. The 6-4, 210-pound senior picked off a Tom Bright aerial at the RO 11 and returned it 10 yards to the 21. Hutsell was also in on 11 tackles.

Rick Hall gained five yards but a penalty, one play later, gave the Romans a second-and-18 at their own 13. Garcia then picked up 10 yards on a sweep and then stunned the Braves with another play-action aerial.

The 5-10, 160-pound junior faked a handoff into the line, rolled out to his right and flipped a toss to Hall, who gathered it in at the 37, received a block from guard Bart Goldstein, and outraced the Brave secondary 77 yards for a score to ice the game.

Garcia then hit Hall for the two-point PAT to give Royal Oak a 16-0 lead with 5:50 to play.

The Braves, forced to go to the air, had two of their final three possessions halted via interceptions (by Mike Diehl and Larry Vicino).

Garcia finished with five completions for 171 yards. The Romans added another 151 yards rushing to finish with 322 yards total offense.

The Braves did play one of their better games of the year, doing a fine job on defense to keep the potent Roman ground-game intact. The only problems occurred on the three action passes, which totaled 152 yards.

Alta Loma also moved the ball fairly well on the ground, rushing for 103 yards (78 of them coming from Steve Robinson, who had his finest game of the year) but suffered in its air attack.

Tom Bright completed just five of 13 attempts for 35 yards and had two picked off while backup QB Dave Silva hit on two of eight for 26 yards. He also had two intercepted.

The Braves deepest penetration came at the end of the third stanza when Bright drove his team to the Roman 20 before Hutsell's theft halted the drive.

Credit the Roman defense for another outstanding job. Frank Malicki (16 tackles and a fumble recovery), Tom Wood (12 stops), Mike Gibbons (nine tackles and an interception), Tom Vitello (8 stops) and Hutsell held the Brave offense to just 164 yards total offense.

San Dimas' offense explodes in 41-7 win

By CHUCK O'CONNOR
P-B Correspondent

The San Dimas High Saints scored six touchdowns in a 41-7 win over Ontario High School Friday night. It was the third win in a row for the Saints, and the first win at home.

The Saints scored quickly on seven plays, when Kevin Pokrajac plunged one yard for the score. Rich Burke set up the score when, on the first play of the game, ran 54 yards.

Ontario got the ball, and Amos Taylor fumbled on his own nine yard line. John Stegmeier recovered the fumble, and two plays later, Burke ran four yards for the second San Dimas touchdown.

Again Ontario got the ball, and its quarterback Ramon Flores threw an interception to Shelly White, who returned the ball 22 yards. On third down Stegmeier ran 39 yards for the third touchdown of the night, and that was the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, White swept nine yards around left end for the fourth touchdown for the Saints. The Saints held the Ontario offense to only seven plays. The Saints led 28-0 at the half.

The third quarter opened when Ontario scored on a two-yard run by Amos Taylor. Steve Bell added the PAT, and the Saints lead was cut to 28-7. But that didn't last for long. Kevin Pokrajac dove one yard for the fifth S.D. touchdown. Stegmeier added all but one of the extra point attempts for San Dimas.

In the fourth quarter Fred Carter swept seven yards around left end, and scored untouched.

Overall, the Saints rolled up 344 yards rushing, and 75 yards passing. Burke totaled up 138 yards on 11 carries. Carter ran six times for 57 yards, while White ran 54 yards on 11 carries. Paul Willman had his usual good night, 36 yards on nine carries. Pokrajac went two for two in passing for a total of 55 yards.

Ontario totaled up 108 yards rushing. Taylor had 102 of those yards on only seven carries. The two quarterbacks Ramon Flores, and Dan Keith went 5 for 14 for 56 yards, with three interceptions.

Next week the Saints play Walnut at home, while Ontario plays Gladstone at Chaffey High School.

Chaffey shuts out Spartans, 14-0

Mark Fox gathered in a six-yard touchdown pass from Larry Garcia, and Mike Cumpston scored on a 68-yard run to pace Chaffey High to a 14-0 victory over San Gorgonio Friday night at Graber Field.

The victory, at the Tigers' homecoming, was the first for Chaffey this year in Citrus Belt League action.

The Chaffey defense was the big story in the game, stopping San Gorgonio twice on fourth-down situations deep in Tiger territory.

With Chaffey leading 7-0, San Gorgonio blocked a Tiger punt with 9:18 showing in the third period. The Spartans had a fourth-and-two situation on the Tiger two yard line, but Chaffey held off the scoring attempt.

Then with 7:13 left in the game and leading 14-0, Chaffey again held San Gogo on a fourth-and-two at the Tiger 10-yard line.

Marvin Fernandez, who just became eligible from the soccer team Friday, kicked both extra points for Chaffey.

Western wins big

Kent Stern accounted for five touchdowns Friday night as Western Christian demolished American Christian 66-0 in an Academy League game played at John Galvin Park in Ontario.

Stern rushed for TDs of three, 10, 50 and 55 yards, caught a pass from Jim Sigler for another score, and added two interceptions to his night's work.

American, now 0-6 on the season, suffered another in a long list of injuries this season when quarterback Bill Mayberry suffered a back injury in the game and had to be taken to the hospital.

The Minutemen have announced that they will forfeit their game next week with Maranatha, thus Friday's loss closes out their season. Western moved to a 3-3 league record with the win.

Poly poloists edge San Diego

Paced by John Roche's four goals, Cal Poly's water polo team defeated a visiting San Diego State club Friday, 12-11.

Cal Poly now has won 10 out of its last 11 contests.

Other scorers for the Broncos Friday were Mark Jacobs, Bruce Cleeland and Leonard Ortiz with two goals each, and Bob Ball and Bob Borland with one apiece.

Lutheran whipped

Outmanned La Verne Lutheran High was no match for Aquinas High Friday night in an Arrowhead League game at Aquinas' field in San Bernardino.

The host Falcons grabbed a 49-0 lead at halftime enroute to a 65-0 blanking of Lutheran, a school fielding only juniors and sophomores in its first varsity season.

Fullback Pete Riley scored five touchdowns for Aquinas on runs of 6, 6, 7, 4 and 40 yards. He rushed for 120 yards in the first half and added 30 more in the third period for his fifth consecutive 100-yard game.

Lutheran hosts CSDR next Friday afternoon (3 p.m.) at Pomona's Marshall Junior High.

Webb in 0-0 tie

RIVERSIDE — Webb School and CSDR fought to a 0-0 tie Friday afternoon at CSDR in an Arrowhead League battle.

Neither team could mount a real scoring threat in the contest although CSDR did out gain Webb 193-118 in total offensive yards and eight to four in first downs.

Deepest Webb penetration was to the CSDR 19 while the Riverside school did make it to the Gaul 10 in the third quarter but were stopped.

Webb now stands at 2-2-1 in Arrowhead action while CSDR is 1-3-1. Next game for the Gauls will be next Saturday, as they host Big Bear.

Rowland still undefeated

By JIM McCONNELL
P-B Staff Writer

Rowland High pushed its perfect Montview League mark to 5-0 Friday night as the Raisers scored a crucial 19-14 win over second-place Azusa at Nogales High.

It wasn't easy for the Raiders, but a razzle-dazzle 17-yard halfback pass from Bob Alkema to Don Pearce in the third quarter went for a touchdown and the Raider defense made that stand up for the margin of victory.

An overflow homecoming crowd at Nogales was on its feet most of the contest, as a game Azusa Aztec squad simply kept coming back at the Raiders.

On the game, Rowland had a slight edge in total offensive statistics, outgaining Azusa 320-308. The Aztecs had a big edge on the ground, 245-122, but the Raiders' Falvio Garcia was on his passing game. Garcia rolled up 198 yards and two touchdown passes as he hit 11 of 22 tosses. In contrast, Aztec signal caller Rich Nyden completed only five passes in 14 attempts for 63 yards.

Rowland hit the scoreboard early in the game, as they took the Azusa kickoff and marched to the Aztec 42. From there Garcia found Don Pearce behind the Azusa secondary and hit him for a 42-yard touchdown bomb. Miguel Medrano added the PAT and it was 7-0 Rowland before Azusa had the football.

Once they got the pigskin Azusa moved the ball well but an interception by the Raiders' Dave Pearce halted their initial scoring threat.

The Aztecs weren't to be denied however, as they recovered an Alkema fumble in the second quarter on the Raider 29.

It took Azusa one play to hit the scoreboard, as Pat Presti ran it in from the 29. A run failed on the Azusa PAT attempt, but the score was now a tight 7-6.

Rowland got some breathing room just before the half ended as John Higham recovered an Azusa fumble to set up a short 26-yard scoring drive. Garcia hit Rich Fisher for the final 13 yards to give Rowland a 13-6 halftime edge.

Alkema's surprise pass to Don Pearce gave Rowland a 19-6 advantage midway through the third period, but Azusa blocked its second PAT attempt of the night to keep things interesting.

The Aztecs assembled a scoring march of their own following the Raider TD. The 80-yard drive to a score was capped by quarterback Nyden who took it in from the seven.

Nyden then connected with David Murillo for a two-point conversion and the Aztecs were very much alive at 19-14.

It was the Rowland defense to the rescue in the final quarter, as Azusa put together a long drive midway through the period, only to be stopped at the Rowland 19.

Rowland will put its perfect Montview slate on the line again next Friday as the Raiders host valley rival Nogales. Azusa fell to 3-2 in league with its loss, while Workman (4-1) moved into second all by its lonesome with a 18-13 win over Bassett.

Azusa	0	6	8	0—14
Rowland	7	6	6	0—19

RW — Don Pearce 18 pass from Garcia (Medrano kick)
Ch — Cumpston 68 run (Fernandez kick)

PASSENGER CAR TIRE GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees each of its passenger car tires for a specified number of miles when used on passenger cars or station wagons, except taxis. If your tire does not give you this mileage because of:

- defects in material or workmanship.
- normal road hazard failure.
- premature tread wearout (2/32 inches or less remaining).

Montgomery Ward will:
1. During the first 10% of guaranteed mileage, replace the tire free.
2. During the remaining guaranteed mileage, replace it for a prorata charge based on mileage used.

Nail punctures repaired free during the entire guaranteed mileage.

For guarantee service and adjustments, return tire to any Montgomery Ward branch with the Guarantee Booklet issued at the time of sale.

Charge after first 10% of guaranteed mileage based on selling price in effect at the time of return at branch to which returned, including federal excise tax.

Passenger tires used on taxi-cabs, and motor vehicles other than passenger cars are guaranteed on the same basis against defects in materials and workmanship only.

Save $11-$18 per tire

College is represented at parley

Azusa Pacific College is represented at the annual Greater Los Angeles Sunday School Association convention by faculty and staff members who served as workshop chairmen. The convention ends today.

Chase A. Sawtell, associate professor of English at the school, conducted four Bibie resource workshop sessions. Ron Cline, dean of students, directed two youth departments workshops. Don Goehner, community relations, hosted a college-young adults workshop.

The Azusa Pacific Male Chorale entertained convention guests on Friday evening with a musical program. An audiovisual display telling about the school was part of the convention exhibits.

To build new church

Greek Orthodox fund raising underway

A fund raising campaign was inaugurated this week by St. Anthony's Greek Orthodox Church of Pasadena and the San Gabriel Valley, to build a new church on the site of the present church. The group plans to raise $350,000 to build a Byzantine-styled church.

The present St. Anthony's Greek Orthodox Church was purchased by a handful of parishioners in 1959, from the Church of Religious Science. Today, St. Anthony's records moret han 350 members who reside throughout the San Gabriel Valley, from San Fernando Valley to San Bernardino and in the local valley area. The Greek Orthodox Church is the only one of its kind in these areas and serves members from some 38 cities, according to Father Nicholas Liberis, pastor.

The new church has been designed by Harrison & Wolfe, architects, Los Angeles. It will occupy some 6,200 square feet of floor space, with 1,000 square feet of loft space for choir and robe rooms. The new ediface will seat nearly 500 parishioners and will provide adequate paved parking facilities.

Kids smoke because of strict parents?

BONN (UPI) — Strict parental upbringing can lead children to take up cigarette smoking, a government study said today.

The study said 36 per cent of West German schoolchildren smoke either regularly or occasionally.

On the average, a child smokes his first cigarette at the age of 10, it said.

Folk rites at Church of Brethren

"Blessed are the Persecuted" is the theme of a folk worship service to be held Sunday at the La Verne Church of the Brethren at 10:30 a.m.

The service will open with a prelude played and sung by a group led by Craig Enberg. Other instrumentalists will include a 20-person bell choir and a small orchestra. Music will include folk, spirituals and golspel songs. The senior choir will sing wearing colorful clothing rather than robes. A youth choir will also perform.

There will be readings from "A Man for All Seasons" and from Donhoeffer's "Cost of Discipleship."

Those attending are invited to wear informal attire.

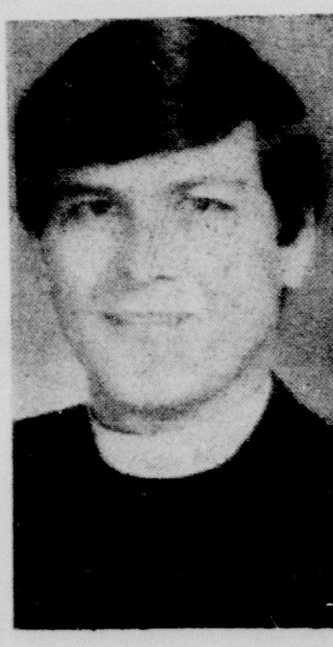
The Rev. Edwin A. Krueger has been appointed the new pastor of Peace Lutheran Church, Pomona. Pastor Krueger, 29, is a 1971 graduate from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. He is married to the former Judy Conrady of Milwaukee, Wis. They have two children, Michelle and Sherri.

Pastor Krueger served his first pastorate at St. Andrew Lutheran Church, West Fargo, N.D. During his three-year ministry there he became active in the area of evangelism both locally and as a spokesman for the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in the state. Under his leadership the church doubled in size, realizing over 800 members.

On his assignment to Pomona, Pastor Krueger said, "I am pleasantly impressed with the city, both for its cleanliness and for its enthusiastic spirit. I hope that I, as a resident here, will be able to contribute my share to the total well-being of its inhabitants."

Pastor Krueger will be installed on Sunday, Nov. 10.



REV. EDWIN A. KRUEGER

Andrew Gibson

New boss of FEA is Old merchant mariner

By United Press International

A slender Ivy Leaguer who went down to the sea in ships 30 years ago is credited with beginning the regeneration of the U.S. shipping industry.

Now he must tackle the nation's energy problems.

Andrew Gibson, a native of New York, became the master of a World War II Liberty ship, the workhorse of a U.S. fleet that plowed the choppy Atlantic Ocean virtually without protection, to supply troops in Europe.

He left the Navy to become supervisor of cargo movement for one of the nation's largest shippers, the W.R. Grace Line, now Prudential Grace. He became a senior vice president when still in his 40's.

With Richard Nixon's election, Gibson joined the government and was named Maritime Administrator. He stayed until 1973, when he went to work for a Philadelphia company that deals in oil transportation. He was the chief writer and sponsor of the Merchant Marine Act of 1970, which reduced operating subsidies for shipping and provided funds to rebuild the nation's shipping fleet.

In 1969 U.S. ships, which had dominated shipping in the 19th century, carried less than 5 per cent of the tonnage entering and leaving U.S. ports. About 90 per cent of all U.S. exports and imports move by ship.

More than two thirds of the U.S. fleet was of World War II vintage and was too small and too slow to compete effectively against modern foreign ships.

The new legislation, which Gibson pushed, involved building a series of new ships. The first of them are now beginning to enter the trade lanes.

The United States is now building some 16 ships which will carry liquified natural gas from North African and Middle East nations to the United States.

His new job as head of the Federal Energy Administration will put him face to face with problems of both oil supply and movement.

Gibson, who stands about 6 feet and weighs 170 pounds, was described as a "demanding, able adminstrator" by his fellow workers. He is married and has five children. He still likes to sail small boats when he gets the chance.

Believe heart attack fatal to sportsman

SEQUOIA NATIONAL FOREST (UPI) — The body of a southern California man was found lying in the snow near the Aspen Meadow packing station here Tuesday, the apparent victim of a heart attack.

Tulare County sheriff's deputies said Lyle Price, 48, Inglewood, was hunting in the area. They said his body was found by other hunters only a few feet from his car.

An autopsy was scheduled to determine the exact cause of death but deputies said there were no indications of violence at the scene and theorized Price suffered a heart attack.

A religious optimist speaks

The spirit is catching up with mechanization

By DAVID E. ANDERSON
UPI Religion Writer

Malachi Martin is at heart a religious optimist.

But the former Jesuit's vision of the future is not one to make religious people committed to the present forms of organized religion at ease.

To fashion a way of explaining what he believes is happening spiritually in the world, Martin devised the metaphor of the castle. The castle is a way of speaking of the ideal, of — "a vision in which all the material conditions of human living were invested by 'spirit' and thus perfected humanity."

According to Martin, there have been some half a dozen times in past history when the "castle vision" appeared and humanity tried to shape the vision into the ideal state.

These visions, according to Martin, came at such places as Mecca, with the rise of Islam, in Jerusalem, with the vision of Abraham, and, perhaps most strangely, in Peru, Ind., where Martin sees a kind of "linear spirit" that speaks for the American version of the ideal state.

For Martin, all these visions of the spirit of transcendence failed when people tried to make them concrete, as for example in the extension of the Islamic empire.

In one sense, the former adviser to Pope John XXIII says in his book, "The New Castle" (Dutton), these visions failed because they became wrapped up in exclusionary religions.

Now, hofever, and this is where Martin's optimism shines forth, there is a new castle vision, one that has already appeared to millions of people.

This vision, he says, is appearing "not in images and not with concepts ... directly to (people's) inner selves."

And he sees the present dislocations of society —such things as the Watergate affair —as a sign of the new vision.

Martin, who still describes himself as a Roman Catholic even though he has left the Jesuits, says he cannot put the new vision into precise language, but in a wide-ranging interview did say "there is a new thing abroad among ordinary people, most who are not real church people.

"The church no longer embodies their ideals," adding that he sees in people "a new fellowship, a new commonality."

America is the only place, according to Martin, where the new vision has a chance to arise but it will not be just an American vision.

"The thrust of the American experiment," he added, "was to create an environment that didn't interfere with you. That is what is at issue now."

The result of this vision, which Martin believes is even now infecting people's lives, will mean that humanity will "arrive at a new understanding of humaness."

Unlike some other churchmen who are criticizing the increased mechanization of life through technological advances, Martin warmly welcomes such advances.

"There will be greater and greater mechanization," he said, "but the spirit is catching up with it.

"What we can do, is to respond to spirit ... because free response to love is the only action typical of the human person."

Confusing and uncertain as Martin's castle vision is, it's nice to find someone seeing in the present a hope for the future.

Width of river saved his life

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The width of the Ohio River was enough to save Curtis Latham from death recently when he was hit in the back by a bullet.

Police said Latham, 68, of Aurora, Ill., an employe of the Bernard Pipeline Co., was working on a gas pipeline being laid on the river bottom from Dayton, Ky., to the Ohio side when he heard three shots.

Latham told police he felt something strike his back and discovered he had been hit by a bullet —which caused only a blood blister.

Loneliness, love probed by students

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI) — Students who want to explore the basic emotions—loneliness and love—are being given an opportunity this semester at the University of the Pacific.

The course on loneliness, taught by Dr. Walter L. Nyberg, a professor in the Religious Studies Department, requires that students become "significantly involved" for at least six weeks with one or more lonely persons. They are to "understand the loneliness of these people and see if they can do something about it."

Students, to fulfill the requirement, may visit young children, talk with people who frequent bars, meet with terminally ill patients, visit skid row residents or take part in community activities.

"Loneliness is a human condition that seems to be a universal experience," says Nyberg. "Even in the midst of a group, a person sometimes is lonely."

Dr. Herbert R. Reinelt, chairman of the Philosophy Department, is teaching the course on love and hinted at a common ground between his subject and Nyberg's.

"The capacity to love and the capacity to accept the love of others for us is the power that overcomes loneliness," said Reinelt.

Nyberg added: "It is my contention that people tend to be lonely because they are afraid to be loving."

Reinelt said the purpose of his course is "to read some of the literature about love, its meaning and its function in human life." Students then discuss the subject in seminar fashion.

"I think students in this class are here because love is important to them and they are puzzled about it," said Reinelt. "I want the students to think about what they are doing when they love and consider the significance of romantic love."

One young woman said she was taking the course because, "I want to develop a better understanding of where its at and what is the secret behind this emotion we call love."

REV. MELVIN H. DEVRIES

Drive-in to install senior pastor

The Rev. Melvin H. DeVries will be installed as senior pastor of the Valley Community Drive-In Church, San Dimas, Sunday at 3 p.m. Installing officer will be the Rev. Robert Van Earden, president of the Classis of California, Reformed Church in America, and pastor of the Chino Valley Reformed Church.

Mr. DeVries was the organizing pastor of Trinity Reformed Church in Kent, Wash., where he has served for the past 15 years.

Following the installation program, a reception will be held for the DeVries family in the Christian fellowship center of the church. Mr. DeVries and his wife, Marcia, are the parents of three children: John 19, Ann 14, and Allan, 12.

Mr. DeVries will bring the morning worship message at the 10 a.m. service at the church.

School gets $124,000

The School of Theology at Claremont has been awarded a $124,000 grant by The Booth Ferris Foundation of New York, president Dr. Gordon E. Michalson has announced.

The Foundation, established in 1957 by Chancie Ferris Booth and Willis H. Booth, has a history of interest in theological seminaries, higher education and social agencies.

The grant is to be equally distributed over a three-year period to help the school underwrite costs related to the education and preparation of currently enrolled Episcopal students for the parish ministry.

College to host Jesuit professor

An internationally known Jesuit professor who has taken some 12,000 color slides of art and archeological sites throughout the world will give a slide lecture at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Humanities Center Auditorium at Scripps College, Claremont.

Raymond V. Schoder, professor of classical art and archeology at Loyola University in Chicago since 1960, will speak on "The Ravenna Mosaics" and show his own slides of them. The mosaics are excellent examples of 5th and 6th century religious Greek Byzantine art found in churches in Ravenna, Italy.

World hunger group chief is speaker

JEANNE ARMSTRONG

Jeanne Armstrong, regional director of the West Coast program for CROP, the community hunger appeal of church World Serivce, will be the guest speaker at two valley churches this Sunday. At 10:30 a.m. she will speak at the Pomona Church of the Brethren. In the evening at 7:30 she will speak to the youth group of Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational.

Miss Armstrong who will discuss the problems of world hunger, has six years of experience in Church World Service programs, both in the United States and overseas. She spent two years in Vietnam and has traveled in over 17 countries.

The city of Corsicana, Tex., drilled for water in 1894 and discovered oil.

TRAGIC VICTIMS OF FAMINE — Woman bathes her 2-year-old daughter for the last time, above, in Assam, India. The child died from starvation and the mother is preparing the body for burial. Below, a naked, starving boy squats at roadside in the same city hoping to get a few scraps of food from passersby. On Tueday, representatives of 130 countries will gather in Rome to discuss what could be this century's most critical conern—world hunger.

Prison parents-to-be seek approval to wed

CRANSTON, R.I. (UPI) — Walter E. Jordan won't be eligible for parole until 1977. The woman he wants to marry won't be eligible until 1980. She is 14 weeks pregnant.

Jordan, serving 37 years for murder, is seeking to marry an unidentified 29-year-old woman prisoner, serving 30 years for murder. The love story began when they met at the Adult Correctional Institutions while both were medium security inmates with jobs.

State Corrections Department spokeswoman Lillian McDaniel Thursday refused to comment on a report that the two may be allowed to exchange vows. The matter is in the hands of three lawyers, she said.

"As soon as they come up with something we will have an announcement," she said.

The Rev. Ronald Marstin, one of three prison chaplains, says Jordan is being locked up 23 hours a day because of the "embarrassment" he has caused the department.

The priest said the relationship between the two was "allowed to happen."

"Their relationship was not clandestine. They asked permission to marry a year ago, and now two people are being hit quite hard for what is a normal, decent, caring, human relationship," Marstin said.

Mrs. McDaniel said "Jordan requested that he be locked up."

"I don't know why, but he must have something to fear from the general population," she said.

Earlier, Mrs. McDaniel had said Jordan was brought before a disciplinary board and "sentenced to a lockup for a specified time" because he broke an institution rule by fraternizing with a female inmate.

Owner finds dog in another state year after it's lost

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — A dog named Lady disappeared from a small town in Wisconsin a year ago but was discovered by her stunned owner in the parking lot of a supermarket here Thursday.

Mrs. John Clark was putting advertising flyers under the windshield wipers of cars in the lot when she walked up to a car in which a familiar-looking German shepherd was sitting.

"There was Lady in one of the cars," said the incredulous former owner. "I think she recognized me about the same time I recognized her."

Lady had wandered off a year ago when the Clarks, then of Louisville, Ky., were visting the town of Oregon, in Wisconsin. They later moved from Kentucky to Portland to find work.

She verified the dog was Lady, a German shepherd, from scars and the latest owners said they had bought her from a dog pound for $5. They agreed to give her back for the same price.

"I suppose that kind of coincidence is about a 1-in-a-billon shot," said Mrs. Clark.

Women better

On Sept. 2, 1878 the first woman employed as a telephone "operator" Miss Emma Nutt — took over the switchboard at the Telephone Dispatch Company in Boston. Before Miss Nutt's tenure, young men served as operators but their rudeness to telephone subscribers caused the company owners to replace them with women.

ALBUM BEAT

By E. J. Jones

Eric Clampton, born in Surrey on March 30, 1945 received his first guitar when he was eight years old. His interest in it was fleeting — and music didn't enter his life again until he began listening to blues in his mid-teens.

"I bought a record by Leadbelly. I was amazed. I had heard nothing like it before."

That's how the press release for Clapton's newest album starts off. Labeled the Biography of Eric Clapton the release goes on to bring you through the first group, The Roosters, and continues including his association with the Bluebreakers, Cream, Blind Faith, and Derek and the Dominoes.

Eric Clapton

Clapton, the release goes on to say, has played with many of the superstars of rock music, such as George Harrison, Leon Russell, John Lennon's Plastic Ono Band.

This is all good and well, but what I want to say about Eric Clapton's newest album "461 Ocean Boulevard" (RSO Records SO 4801) is that I like it best. His last album "Eric Clapton's Rainbow Concert" was not as good.

"461 Ocean Boulevard" has a new Clapton style while still retaining the Clapton vitality and charisma, which I believe all will appreciate.

Featuring Clapton's vocalizing and clear back-up vocals by Yvonne Elliamn on many of the cuts, the music takes you through some Clapton originals, some Bob Marley music and some old time songs like "Willie and the Hand Jive" done in a style which brings back memories, but still has a newness of arrangement.

The musicians in Eric Clapton's Touring Band include Yvonne Elliman — known to millions throughout the world as Mary Magdalene of the "Jesus Christ Superstar" original album, concert tour, Broadway production and film. Again I say crystal clear and very well done back up vocals. She adds another dimension to this album.

Carl Radle (Delaney and Bonnie & Joe Cocker's Mad Dogs and Englishmen) plays bass; Jamie Oldaker, drums; Dick Sims, organ; and George Terry, guitar.

Of course the album features the hit single "I Shot the Sheriff" as well as other fine cuts. Notably is a Clapton and Elliman original entitled "Get Ready." A good rock sound with a reggae beat. Solos are shared by Clapton and Yvonne Elliman.

Side two includes "I Can't Hold Out", "Please Be With Me", "Let it Grow" (a Clapton original about love done in an easy rock beat), Steady Rollin' Man and concludes with "Mainline Florida."

The main difference between this album and "Rainbow Concert" is that it presents a new style for Clapton . . . Easy rock. "Rainbow" was exciting because of the music and the fact that it was done before a live audience. "Ocean" is more formed and structured. It's also Claptons first studio produced LP in four years. A very good album showing a different side of Eric Clapton. One I believe you'll enjoy. It rates a number 5 on the album beat scale of ten. You might say Clapton was "wild" on Rainbow, but on "Ocean" he's a "Steady Rollin' Man".

Chess

By SHELBY LYMAN

The defensive resources inconspicuously available in many seemingly fragile chess positions can break the will of the staunchest attacker. To overcome the inevitable resistance, an attack must be sustained and must involve one or several tactical intricacies, i.e., a temporary sacrifice, a multiple attack, a zwischenzug, a desperado move, etc.

Even then the attacking player may have a very thin line to tread. As U.S. champion Walter Browne wrote recently in annotating one of his own games, "I felt as though I were walking a tightrope: one small miscalculation, one little error and I would throw away everything."

One is therefore somewhat astonished when only very simple moves prove sufficient. For example, it is extremely rare that a direct one-piece-one-move attack on a single pawn or piece cannot be countered by some means or other. Such attacking moves do not usually tax the defense enough to win anything.

Yet there are occasions for the most direct means, and few examples are more simple than our very basic (and contrived) position given in Diagram One. White, of course, wins by playing 1. Q-N5, which threatens 2. QxNP mate. Black's only answer 1 . . . P-KN3, allows 2. Q-R6 and mate must follow.

It Happened in Pomona

By Doc Peirsol

They had problems

So you think that we are confronted with problems today that early day Pomonans never even dreamed of? Well, don't be too sure!

Seventy years ago one of this country's large oil companies was being accused of crude oil manipulation. But strangely enough the 1904 manipulation was exactly the opposite to that for which the oil companies are being condemned today. In August 1904 the editor of The Pomona Daily Review asserted that perhaps the real reason crude oil was selling for only eleven and a half cents a barrel was because the Standard Oil Company was drastically slashing prices in order to get rid of competition.

And when it came to juvenile delinquency, our pioneer Pomonans were apparently little better off than we are today. In fact, in August, 1904, The Pomona Daily Review editor was bitterly complaining:

"Can't something be done to disperse the hoodlums who roll on the grass beneath the trees in the Southern Pacific Depot park every afternoon and make the air blue with their profanity? Two hulking, dirty and foul boys have lain drunk there most of today, swearing like pirates at the other boy loafers. Is there no authority by which this might be stopped?"

Furthermore, those so called good old days were far from being the bed of roses many of us envision today. In 1904 we were experiencing an economic recession, and one of the contributing factors to that recession was, as our newspaper editor pointed out:

"If there were any prunes to harvest in this region, this would be the very period of the year that the prune harvesters would be getting in their work. — The oldest resident can not remember when prunes were so great a crop failure as this season."

And believe it or not, seventy years ago our Pomona forefathers were fearfully shaking their heads over the possibility that they, too, might become sniper victims. This was brought about by an article in The Review which stated:

"Hollywood residents are becoming so accustomed to the carelessness of hunters in that neighborhood that when rifle bullets and buckshot come crashing through windows they merely paste a piece of paper across the hole and remark about the impoliteness of some sportsmen."

Takeoff on Sherlock Holmes succeeds beyond expectations

By THOMAS J. ELLIOTT

THE SEVEN-PER-CENT SOLUTION by Nicholas Meyer. E.P. Dutton, $6.95.

The real pleasure of this book is in its ingenuity. It is reputed to be a manuscript dictated by Dr. Watson which reveals, at last, the true story about Sherlock Holmes's involvement with the most nefarious and brilliant of all his antagonists, Professor Moriarty.

(Thomas J. Elliott is an associate professor of English as California State Polytechnic University, Pomona.)

Unlike most of the Sherlock Holmes movies, this novel will satisfy real devotees. It is in period, the 1890s, to be exact. It does not keep silent about the dark side of Holmes's personality, his fits of deep melancholia and his addiction to cocaine.

Indeed, it is the cocaine obsession that leads to the most startling confrontation in Meyer's story, between Holmes and Sigmund Freud.

Freud cures the detective of his dependence on drugs and we learn the source of this habit in the inner recesses of Holmes's personality, something that Arthur Conan Doyle never reveals. Not to be outdone, Holmes illumines a case for Freud, exposing the roots of a case of schizophrenia in a crime.

The major episode of the melodrama is the collaboration of the two great sleuths on a case which at the end has one of the most exciting train chases ever, complete with swashbuckling dramatics on the top of the train at full speed.

It is all great fun. By no means a parody, it succeeds in a way that few imitations of Doyle do. The style is a fine achievement in itself.

The only failings occur when Meyer departs completely from the typical Doyle script. The ending, wherein Professor Moriarty's identity is revealed (he was a figure from the youth of Holmes and his brother Mycroft), is captivating, although some of the action seems more suited to an American Western than a Victorian saga.

We learn that Dr. Watson had to keep certain facts secret for reasons of national security, and for this reason camouflaged the truth of this case.

We must remember that Watson had no obligation to tell the whole truth; he was not an elected official, after all, and we discover that there were indeed very real matters of national security at stake. In both tone and characterization, Watson is quite convincing here as narrator and companion.

The mating of the two greatest deductive minds of all time, Holmes and Freud, is both exciting and believable. This is perhaps Meyer's greatest achievement. Freud, of course, actually did do experimental work with cocaine. What might otherwise sound outlandish, then, is really the result of very careful research.

We meet familiar characters and easily recognize them. Watson is as charmingly bumbling as in any of Sir Arthur's stories. The period is painstakingly depicted; our hero is a Victorian gentleman to the last detail. What few lapses there are, in pacing or in dialogue, are quickly forgiven.

Not every reader will be aware that there exists a huge wealth of Holmesiana, speculations by critics, treatises by historians, etc. Meyer draws upon these sources a great deal, making his book enjoyable for neophyte and expert alike.

Sensitive treatment of movie idol's life

By DIANA DE NOYELLES

JAMES DEAN: A SHORT LIFE by Venable Herndon. Doubleday, $6.95.

A short, streaking light in the 1950's film scene, James Dean portrayed both on and off the screen the restlessness and rebellion that youth in the status-quo of that period felt but could not express.

(Diana De Noyelles is a staff member of the Pomona Public Library).

In the fall of 1955, when he was only 24, he died at the wheel of his Porche Spyder.

His death touched off a film fan frenzy that rivaled the explosion that followed the death of Valentino. For years afterward Warner Brothers continued to receive letters from fans who refused to believe that this man was truly dead.

To this day there are still visitors who pay homage to him on the anniversary of his death.

James Dean was well on his way to becoming a hero. His death completed the consecration and assured him a place in the pantheon that includes other wounded, gifted people — Billie Holiday, Jackson Pollock, Sylvia Plath, Janis Joplin, Jimi Hendrix, Dylan Thomas.

From an Indiana farm boy in 1949 to a place as an international star five years later the author explores this short, intense life in all its dimensions and contradictions and tries to separate fact from myth.

Included are interviews with people who lived with, loved and worked with Dean. He shows the actor as he really was: his terrors, ambitions and his struggles as an actor.

Venable Herndon, founder of the Chelsea Review and co-writer of the Screenplay Alice's Resturant has given us a very sensitive treatment of the actor James Dean and the person, Jimmy.

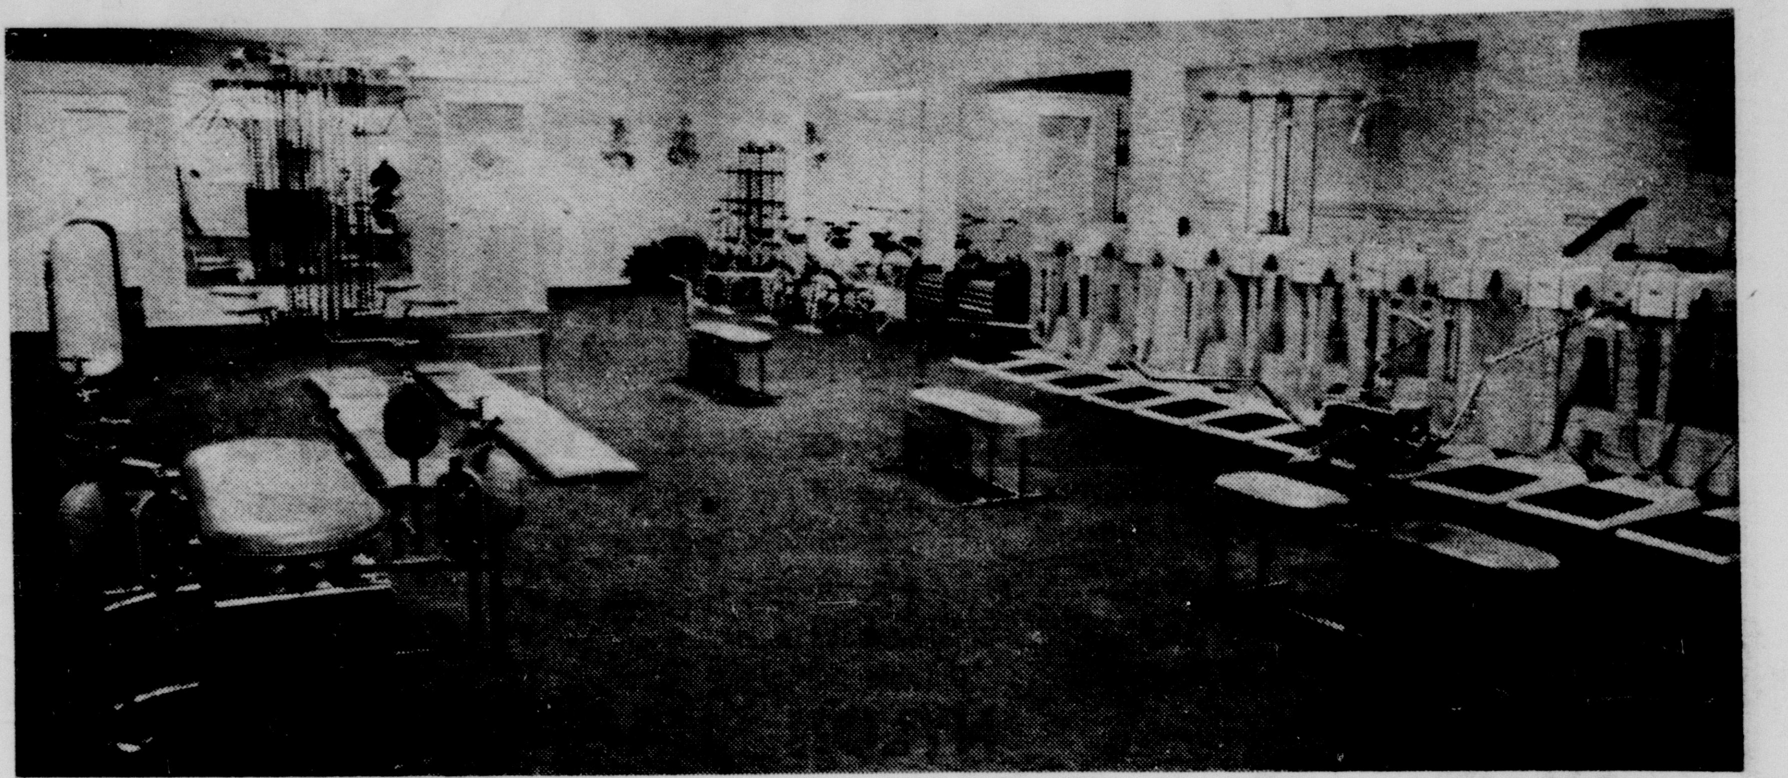
Mary Ellen's salon offers fast results



Mary Ellen's Figure Salon offers variety of equipment to help trim the figure and aid in developing a better body.

"A mirror doesn't lie! And it is our desire to get fast results and get women slender," says Carrie Story, manager of Mary Ellen's Figure Salon, 899 W. Foothill Blvd., Upland.

Mary Ellen's offers a speciality room to help women get these fast results—the only one of its kind in the area, Mrs. Story explained.

"The speciality room consists of a passive program in that the machines do all the work for you," she said.

The room has three machines, the hip and thigh machine, the roller table and the waist table. Each machine is designed to break down cellulite or fatty tissues in the body. "A person does not have to be fat to have cellucite deposits," Mrs. Story said.

To use the hip and thigh machine a person need only lie on her back and rest. The machine does all the work. Chrome rollers hug the sides of the body, vibrating and massaging the hips and thighs. The machine is designed to break down fatty tissues and reduce the thighs, hips and buttocks.

There are five positions a person may assume on the roller table. The principle behind this machine is the same as the hip and thigh machine, to break down cellulite.

In addition to reducing the hips, thighs and buttocks, the table helps reduce the abdomen and waist.

The third machine available in the speciality room is the waist table: To operate the waist table a person has only to lie back and relax. The machine is designed to rotate the lower half of the body, while the torso remains stationary.

For the active person, Mary Ellen's also offers the most modern of exercising equipment.

Some machines in the salon are there simply for the purpose of circulating the blood. Two such machines are the vibrator belt and the pony roller. Other equipment, such as the weight machine, is designed for spot reducing.

In addition Mary Ellen's also has equipment to help proportion the body by either increasing or decreasing a specific area. Every women who decides to become a member of the salon is measured, weighed and given a special program to suit her individual needs. "No one has the same program," said Mrs. Story.

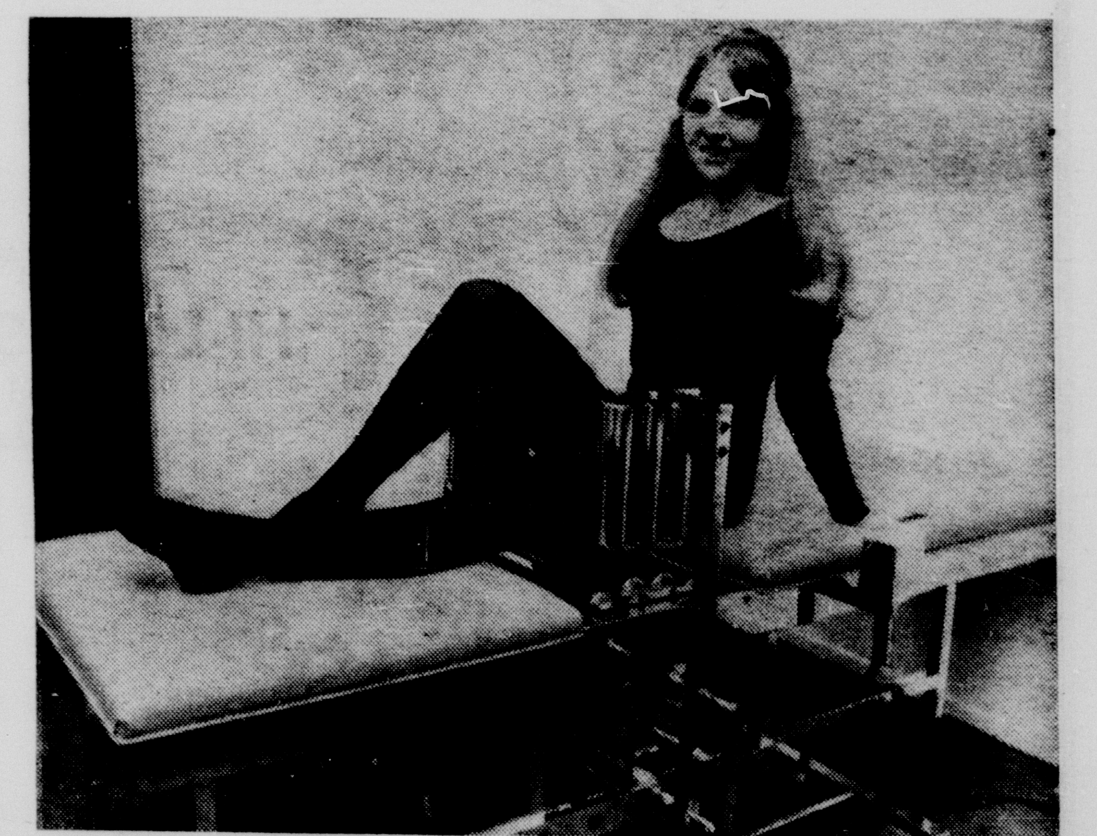
As an example, she said the salon has a bust developing machine and one to decrease the bust.

"Each woman is an individual in this figure salon," she added.

To encourage their clientele to use the facilities more often, Mary Ellen's offers free babysitting on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Mary Ellen's also prides itself on being a member of the Better Business Bureau and in the fact that it has no contracts. In addition there is no limitation in the number of visits a person may make while she is a member. "Our ladies may use their program six days a week, coming in as often as they like," Mrs. Story added.

Mary Ellen's Figure Salon is open six days a week; Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Trained personnel are on duty at all times.



Marla Cochran, an employee at the Salon, demonstrated the hip and thigh machine. One only has to sit back and take it easy the machine does all the work for you.

The roller table helps reduce fatty tissues in the buttocks, thigh, hip, waist and stomach area. Carrie Story, manager of Mary Ellen's demonstrates the simplicity of the machine.

A new look for old berry patch

Story by Joseph H. Firman

P-B staff writer

Things are blooming in the old berry patch.

Knott's Berry Farm which grew from a 10-acre boysenberry ranch in Buena Park to a 150-acre multimillion dollar amusement center has announced plans for changes, additions and further expansion, with a new amusement area with the theme of the 1920s scheduled to open next summer.

The new center named The Twenty's will replace the Gypsy Camp on the west side of the sprawling park. It will include four thrill rides and other attractions and in 1976 a new restaurant.

"The whole world is changing and so are we," says Marion Knott Anderson, daughter of Walter Knott, founder of the park.

The story of the Berry Farm is a dramatic account of the imagination, enterprise and hard work of Knott and his wife, the late Cordelia Knott, former Pomona residents. In 1920 they built a small roadside stand to sell their berries, and the celebrated Berry Farm grew like Topsy.

First came the five-table tea room where Mrs. Knott served homemade boysenberry pies, hot biscuits and berry jam. Although she repeatedly warned her husband that "we're not going into the restaurant business," she decided in 1934 that she was going to "try some chicken dinners." The first eight dinners (served on her wedding china) were an immediate success. Over the years as demand grew, the service expanded and Mrs. Knott's tea room became the 1,000-seat Mrs. Knott's Chicken Dinner Restaurant, which last year served 847,091 chicken dinners.

On Mother's Day 1967, the restaurant served 16,784 dinners.

Other eating places at the Berry Farm now include the Steak House, which last year served more than 600,000 diners, the Cable Car Kitchen, the Burger Wagon, Sutter's Grub Steak, Longhorn Chow House, Mission Trail Cantina, Foods of Fortune and Lagoon Food Stand.

The Knotts' daughter, Virginia, opened a gift shop at the Farm in 1937, and in 1940, as a tribute to the memory of his pioneer grandmother, Knott bought the 100-year-old Gold Trails Hotel in Prescott, Ariz., and had it moved to Buena Park. It was the start of Ghost Town, the chief entertainment area of the Farm.

Among the Old West attractions are the Silver Dollar Saloon, Goldie's Place, sheriff's office and jail, livery stable, covered wagon show, Western Trails Museum, dentist's office, blacksmith shop, Boot Hill, bank, gun shop and other accurate reproductions of the frontier.

Visitors can also take rides on the narrow-gauge Calico Steam Train, a stage coach and a mine train.

Over the years new shops and attractions were added and old ones expanded. A preserving plant opened in 1948, a bakery and school house in 1952, the Church of Reflections in 1955, Independence Hall in 1966, Fiesta Village in 1969 and the John Wayne Theater and Gypsy Camp in 1971.

Fiesta Village, done in architecture of Old Mexico, has shops, open-stall markets, an animal farm and amusement rides. Gypsy Camp, soon to be replaced, has six entertainment, food and shopping areas, including a flea market and a gypsy bazaar.

Independence Hall, a full-scale replica of the original in Philadelphia where the Declaration of Independence was signed, contains a one-ton reproduction of the Liberty Bell, complete with the identifying crack.

Between Ghost Town and Fiesta Village lies a small lake, with flower boats, a flamingo pond, and an island. Knott's Lagoon, east of the Berry Farm, offers rides on the Cordelia K, a side-wheel river boat.

A wide range of live entertainment goes on continuously at the Farm, from cowboys in mock gun battles, to Mexican and gypsy dances, to shows and musical program in the John Wayne Theater, the Wagon Camp amphitheater, and the Bird Cage Theater, specializing in hiss-the-villain melodrama.

Mrs. Anderson, prime force behind the new expansion, has no qualms about the future of the Farm.

"We here at Knotts have great faith in the future," she said. "Besides that, we are a family business. There are three generations working in the business now and the fourth generation is beginning to make sounds of wanting in. So we must keep growing — besides that's what makes working fun."

Knott's Berry Farm is open every day except Christmas. Fall, winter and spring hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday. Summer hours are 9 a.m. to midnight. Admission is $2.25 for adults and $1 for children. Admission and a book of tickets to six attractions are $3.75 adults, $2.50 children. Parking is free.

Paid attendance at Knott's last year was 3.2 million, making it the third most popular entertainment center in the nation — behind Disneyland and Disney World in Florida.

They must be doing something right down on the Farm.

"Seldom Seen Slim" and his burro greet visitors to Knott's Berry Farm in Buena Park.

German clock in front of Candy Kitchen tells time in 13 countries.

Marion Knott Anderson, daughter of the founder of Knott's Berry Farm, explains a model of the park's proposed new center.

ON THE COVER

Costumed characters of the Old West throng through Knott's Berry Farm, working at the 22 action rides and more than 50 shops. The 150-acre amusement park has announced plans for a multimillion dollar expansion program to be completed next year. Shown in this Ghost Town scene are the Butterfield Stage Coach, the Calico Railroad and the log ride shooting down the mountain.

Bands battle in Chino tonight

By BRENDA ALBERSON
Chino Reporter

The bands Crystal Blue (formerly Nathan & Love) of Pomona, Six Fingers Funk (formerly Metiz) of Ontario, and Novena, a new band from San Dimas, will be performing at Chino High School's "Battle of Bands" tonight in the gym.

The "Battle of Bands" is an annual contest for rock bands. This year the contest will be sponsored by Chino High's Mecha Club and the senior class.

An admission of $1.50 per person willbe charged in order to raise money for the senior class Christmas dance at the Disneyland Hotel. It also will be used to finance the Mecha Club Cinco de Mayo festivities.

The concert comes through the student activities office directed by Pete Setlich with the help of student Richard Rodriquez. Setlick said Richard has done 90 per cent of their work trying to get everything set up for the concert.

Night Concert

Richard said, "This is going to be the first night concert. It's going to be a concert and a dance. This is only for Chino High students. We plan to have more night concerts at Chino High. We'd like a minimum of 1,000 people to come."

The bands will be judged on clarity of all instruments and vocalists, how well they get the audience's attention and keep it, on a two-song melody, how close they come to the original song and singers of the songs they perform, and their appearance.

Judges will be Bill Kraut, booking agent for Magic Mountain amusement park, Setlich, a member of the Mecha Club and a member of the senior class.

Trophies

Trophies will be given to all three bands. The winner will receiving the $100 prize and the opportunity to play at the homecoming dance.

Paul Rodriquez, a disc jockey for KSPC radio in Claremont, will emcee the event.

"As an extra attraction we hope to have John Lyn, a Chino High graduate, do his Elvis Presley imitation with background music by the band, Persuasion," said Setlich.

At the concert-dance, dancers and the audience will be separated so that they will not disturb one another.

The concert and dance will begin at 7:30 p.m. and end at midnight.

Damien Reporters

The Spartan Laconian, the newspaper at Damien High School in La Verne, has been accepted into the honorary Quill and Scroll Society.

The organization was set up to encourage good journalism. It directs its main focus on the individual staff members, unlike other organizations which put their emphasis on the school newspaper as a whole.

The purpose of the society is to encourage individual initiative and creative writing so that the individual can contribute to the school's publication.

It also works to recognize and reward the individual achievements of students who are connected with some kind of journalistic activity.

International

By being accepted into the Quill and Scroll Society, the Spartan Laconian has become a part of an international organization, along with students and school papers from all over the world.

Known formally as the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, Quill and Scroll was organized in 1926 by a group of high school advisers.

Since its organization, Quill and Scroll has granted charters to more than 10,000 high schools. In order for a school newspaper to be chartered and its members accepted into the society, the students who are involved must meet strict requirements. The Damien students have complied.

Members of the Spartan Laconian staff are Mike Giradot, editor; Gordon Carlson, assistant editor; Sean Sullivan, news editor; Bob Nielsen, sports editor; Bob Pilon, feature editor; and Bryant "Buzz" Harwood, Jim Wescamp, Greg Wintroath, Kurt Kutyla, John Pignotti, Ed Ramirez, John Reilly, Ron Blaquiere, Fred Moreno, Rick Ravencamp and Robert Rhinehard, reporters. Miss Linda Proctor is adviser.

Bonita ASB celebrates Halloween

By PETE MARTINEZ
Bonita Reporter

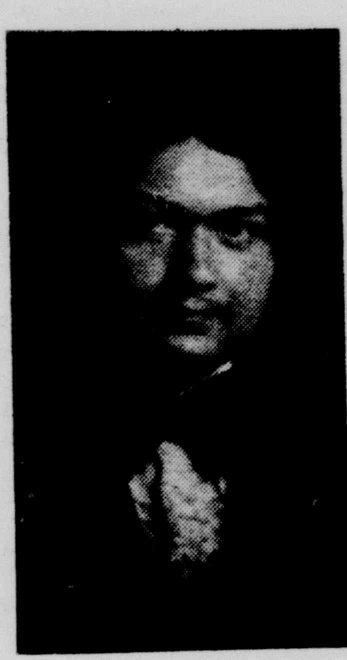
Bobbing for apples, carving pumpkins, sounds somewhat like a Halloween party doesn't it.

That's exactly what the Bonita High School ASB sponsored on Thursday for Halloween. During lunch students participated in various contests of their choice. The various contests which were held were bobbing for apples, pumpkin carving, pie eating, and a dress-up contest. Prizes were given to the winners of each contest.

Snack Bar

A snack bar with storage and serving facilities is nearing completion at Bonita High School. The project began two years ago and has become an effort between the community, the school district, and the student body.

Martinez is Bonita reporter



PETE MARTINEZ

Pete Martinez, 17, is the Teen Scope correspondent at Bonita High School in La Verne.

Martinez, a senior, is on the staff of Echoes, the school yearbook. He has been a class officer and last year was on the staff of the school newspaper, the Bearcat.

Martinez was born in Pomona. He attended Primary and Grace Miller schools and Ramona Intermediate School in La Verne.

School Paper

He became interested in journalism in seventh and eighth grade when he worked on the school newspaper.

Currently he is employed by the La Verne Recreation Department as a recreation leader.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jess Martinez of La Verne. He has a brother, Tommy, who is in the seventh grade at Ramona.

Martinez' hobbies are bicycling and reading.

He plans to attend a four-year college and major in foreign language-Spanish. His career choice is indefinite.

PC plans dance Nov. 9

By REGINA DE PAOLA
Pomona Catholic

Pomona Catholic will hold its traditional father and daughter dance, "The King and I", Nov. 9. The event will take place at St. Joseph multipurpose auditorium in Pomona, starting at 8 p.m. and concluding at 11 p.m. The hall will be decorated in autumn fashion.

The fathers and daughters will sway to the music of Ralph Tancredi, a professor of music at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut, and his band; The Sentimentalists.

To make the night a family event the mothers will be the hostesses at the dance.

Awards will be given to the oldest and youngest dads, the dad with most daughters and the dad and daughter who look most alike.

The dance is being sponsored by the ASB officers at PC to give the dads and daughters the opportunity to get out on the town and have a good time. All profit made will go towards the benefit of the school and the students.

Garey assembly held

By Steve Trenholme
Garey Reporter

Garey was treated to its first assembly of the year Tuesday, Oct. 29. The Michael Fennelly Band, fresh from a performing tour in England, gave an hour-long concert. Electric versions of songs from Bluesmen Blind Lemon Johnson and Leadbelly were featured.

In other activities, senior men voted on finalists for the homecoming court. An election later will narrow the field to a queen and four princesses who will be crowned at the homecoming game Nov. 16 at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut. Semi-finalists are Phoebe Kennedy, Martha Duran, Priscilla Aragon, Brenda Landon, Chris Duran, Pam Newton, Linda Mendoza, Teresa Espinoza, Gay Roberts, and Cindy Drew.

Sniffing spray led to death

BURLINGAME (UPI) — Police declared Tuesday that a 10-year-old boy, whose body was found near the Burlingame High School football field, had died because he sniffed a nonstick frying pan spray.

Police Chief Jerry Nordstom said an unidentifed companion had told officers that both he and Bobby Brown had sniffed the spray from a paper bag and that the victim had collapsed.

Nordstrom said that the death of an engineer's son was the third from sniffing spray in San Mateo County since July.
